Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Dapartment (Public), under date Calcutta, the 8th December 1899.

RESOLUTION.

The Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians, who desire to return to their country, and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily, the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England, the desirability of providing themselves before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police), or Political Officer, as the case may be.

FINANCIAL.

No. Fl. 4847—B. 37-09, dated 16*th March* 1911.

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to direct the alteration of Rule 10 of the Insurance Rules as follows:—

When an Insured Official ceases to be in the service of the Government before completing the age of 55 years, he may elect within 12 months either—

(1) to continue to pay the premium due on his policy till it matures or

(2) to surrender the policy receiving a surrender value of 60% of the premium paid by him without interest. If the insured person fails to communicate his election of either of the alternatives provided in the first paragraph of this Rule within the said 12 months, he shall be deemed to have discontinued to pay the premium due on the policy and the arrears of premiums so withheld shall be treated as a debt against his policy and deducted with compound interest at 4% per annum from the bonus payable to him. An insured official who has been dismissed from the service and ordered by Government to be included in the list of officials not eligible for re-entertainment in Government service, shall not be entitled to the first alternative provided in the first paragraph of this rule but shall receive only 60% of the total premium paid by him without interest.

No. Fl. 4907—B. 33-09-7, dated 18*th March* 1911.

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja have been pleased to sanction the formation of a Family Pension Fund as an adjunct to the State Life Insurance Scheme. A statement of the principles underlying the scheme together with the rules regarding the Fund are published hereunder for information of Government officials throughout the State.

The Fund will be started as soon as fifty officials have expressed their willingness to join. Persons desirous of joining the Fund or requiring further information should apply to the Secretary, Insurance Committee.

By Order,

J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,

Financial Secretary to Government.

ADDITION OF A FAMILY PENSION BRANCH TO THE MYSORE STATE LIFE INSURANCE FUND.

SECTION I.

Principles underlying the scheme and general outline.

1. The principles, on which the operations of this Branch will be based, are the same as those underlying the operations of other Family Pension Funds. All subscribers who join the Branch secure substantial family pensions in case they die leaving nominees dependent on them. The pension payable to the nominees may be in many cases much larger than the subscription paid by the subscriber, e.g., if a subscriber aged 25 dies leaving a widow aged 18 after having paid subscription for say six months to the extent of a few rupees, the widow may enjoy a pension of Rs. 10 a month for 50 years or more, i.e., as long as she may live. On the other hand if both the subscriber and the nominee live for a long time or if the nominee dies before the subscriber, the Fund has some advantage. (See however Rule 59.)

2. It will be seen that such an institution for the provision of family pension is one of mutual benefit. The subscribers in a body may be said to undertake the work of maintaining the family of those amongst them who may be so unfortunate as to die leaving helpless dependents. A subscriber whose nominee dies after he has paid subscription for some time may have some satisfaction in knowing that though the contingency for which he was making the payments has not come to pass and the provision has been made unnecessary in his case, his payments will help in maintaining widows and orphans in other cases where the breadwinner has died before the nominees.

3. The fact that all permanent employees of the Mysore Government are required to insure their lives in the State Insurance office guards to some extent against the contingency of dependents of Government employees being left absolutely destitute at the death of such employees. But the interest on the insurance money is not sufficient in any case to maintain the family and for various reasons an unassignable monthly pension is a much surer and better mode of provision for widows and orphans than a lump sum. Moreover the contentment and peace of mind which results from a person feeling that a provision has been made for the maintenance of his family after his death, cannot be held to be secured by the existing insurance rules. Such contentment and peace of mind on the part of public servants are of much direct advantage to the persons themselves and of indirect advantage to the State. The scheme of family pensions is introduced to secure the above result as far as possible. It must be understood however that subscription to the Family Pension scheme will be entirely optional in the case of all present and future employees of the State, and that those who join will have perfect liberty in subscribing for any dependents they like consistently with the rules.

4. The main features of the scheme are the following :—

(1) Subscription to the Fund will be entirely optional.

(2) An official, by paying a fixed monthly subscription during his life time may secure a pension for life or for a term of years to a specified nominee, or specified nominees, such as wife, child, parent or other relative, who may survive the subscriber. If any nominee pre-deceases the subscriber, the latter shall not get a refund of the subscriptions paid on behalf of such nominee. (See however Rule 59 under which surpluses at actuarial valuations may be devoted to giving some refund in such cases.)

(3) Intending subscribers will be liable to medical examination; there will be no medical examination for nominees.

(4) The amount of pension which can be secured for each nominee shall be not less than Rs. 5 or more than Rs. 30 per mensem, and the aggregate amount of the pensions which may be secured for all the nominees of a subscriber shall not exceed Rs. 80 per mensem, of which not more than Rs. 60 per mensem shall be life pensions.

(5) The nominees will not be permitted to assign their pensions.

(6) Every endeavour will be made to see that the nominees get their pensions promptly, regularly and without any trouble. (Vide rules regarding payment of pensions.)

RULES REGARDING THE FAMILY PENSION BRANCH OF THE MYSORE STATE LIFE INSURANCE OFFICE.

SECTION II.

Admission of subscribers.

1. All employees of the Government of Mysore who are eligible for insurance under the Mysore State Life Insurance Rules will have the privilege of providing for the maintenance of their parents, widows, children and certain other relatives by paying additional subscription under the following rules :—

The Branch of the Mysore State Life Insurance Office dealing with such provision will be called the Family Pension Branch.

2. Every intending subscriber to the Family Pension Branch who is already in service shall submit his letter of application through the head of his office to the Secretary, Mysore State Life Insurance Committee, in such form and with such declarations as the Committee may prescribe; and on paying an entrance fee of Rs. 4 shall receive from the Secretary a letter authorising the medical officer to examine him within a month from the date of such letter. In the event of the applicant failing to appear before the medical officer within the period aforesaid, he shall be liable to forfeiture of his entrance fee, unless sufficient reason can be shown by him for non-attendance. In case of renewal of his application, he shall be required to pay a fresh entrance fee.

3. The entrance fee should be paid into the nearest treasury and the treasury receipt may be forwarded to the Secretary, Insurance office, with the application as evidence of payment.

4. The medical officer shall be entitled to a fee of Rs. 4 for each applicant who is already in the service of Government and has been examined before for State Life Insurance. He should submit periodical bills on this account to the Secretary, Insurance office, who will return them, after check, with the Comptroller's order for payment at the treasury.

5. In the case of persons newly admitted to an appointment in which insurance is admissible, the medical examination for ordinary insurance and for Family Pension should take place simultaneously. In such cases no separate medical certificate for admission to the Family Pension Branch will be required and no fee will be payable to the medical officer.

FINANCIAL.

No. Fl. 4907—B. 33-09-7, dated 18*th March* 1911.

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja have been pleased to sanction the formation of a Family Pension Fund as an adjunct to the State Life Insurance Scheme. A statement of the principles underlying the scheme together with the rules regarding the Fund are published hereunder for information of Government officials throughout the State.

The Fund will be started as soon as fifty officials have expressed their willingness to join. Persons desirous of joining the Fund or requiring further information should apply to the Secretary, Insurance Committee.

By Order,
J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Financial Secretary to Government.

ADDITION OF A FAMILY PENSION BRANCH TO THE MYSORE STATE LIFE INSURANCE FUND.

SECTION I.

Principles underlying the scheme and general outline.

1. The principles, on which the operations of this Branch will be based, are the same as those underlying the operations of other Family Pension Funds. All subscribers who join the Branch secure substantial family pensions in case they die leaving nominees dependent on them. The pension payable to the nominees may be in many cases much larger than the subscription paid by the subscriber, e.g., if a subscriber aged 25 dies leaving a widow aged 18 after having paid subscription for say six months to the extent of a few rupees, the widow may enjoy a pension of Rs. 10 a month for 50 years or more, i.e., as long as she may live. On the other hand if both the subscriber and the nominee live for a long time or if the nominee dies before the subscriber, the Fund has some advantage. (See however Rule 59.)

2. It will be seen that such an institution for the provision of family pension is one of mutual benefit. The subscribers in a body may be said to undertake the work of maintaining the family of those amongst them who may be so unfortunate as to die leaving helpless dependents. A subscriber whose nominee dies after he has paid subscription for some time may have some satisfaction in knowing that though the contingency for which he was making the payments has not come to pass and the provision has been made unnecessary in his case, his payments will help in maintaining widows and orphans in other cases where the breadwinner has died before the nominees.

3. The fact that all permanent employees of the Mysore Government are required to insure their lives in the State Insurance office guards to some extent against the contingency of dependents of Government employees being left absolutely destitute at the death of such employees. But the interest on the insurance money is not sufficient in any case to maintain the family and for various reasons an unassignable monthly pension is a much surer and better mode of provision for widows and orphans than a lump sum. Moreover the contentment and peace of mind which results from a person feeling that a provision has been made for the maintenance of his family after his death, cannot be held to be secured by the existing insurance rules. Such contentment and peace of mind on the part of public servants are of much direct advantage to the persons themselves and of indirect advantage to the State. The scheme of family pensions is introduced to secure the above result as far as possible. It must be understood however that subscription to the Family Pension scheme will be entirely optional in the case of all present and future employees of the State, and that those who join will have perfect liberty in subscribing for any dependents they like consistently with the rules.

4. The main features of the scheme are the following:—

(1) Subscription to the Fund will be entirely optional.

(2 An official, by paying a fixed monthly subscription during his life time may secure a pension for life or for a term of years to a specified nominee, or specified nominees, such as wife, child, parent or other relative, who may survive the subscriber. If any nominee predeceases the subscriber, the latter shall not get a refund of the subscriptions paid on behalf of such nominee. (See however Rule 59 under which surpluses at actuarial valuations may be devoted to giving some refund in such cases.)

(3) Intending subscribers will be liable to medical examination; there will be no medical examination for nominees.

(4) The amount of pension which can be secured for each nominee shall be not less than Rs. 5 or more than Rs. 30 per mensem, and the aggregate amount of the pensions which may be secured for all the nominees of a subscriber shall not exceed Rs. 80 per mensem, of which not more-than Rs. 60 per mensem shall be life pensions.

(5) The nominees will not be permitted to assign their pensions.

FINANCIAL.

No. Fl. 4907—B. 33-09-7, dated 18*th March* 1911.

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja have been pleased to sanction the formation of a Family Pension Fund as an adjunct to the State Life Insurance Scheme. A statement of the principles underlying the scheme together with the rules regarding the Fund are published hereunder for information of Government officials throughout the State.

The Fund will be started as soon as fifty officials have expressed their willingness to join. Persons desirous of joining the Fund or requiring further information should apply to the Secretary, Insurance Committee.

By Order,
J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Financial Secretary to Government.

ADDITION OF A FAMILY PENSION BRANCH TO THE MYSORE STATE LIFE INSURANCE FUND.

SECTION I.

Principles underlying the scheme and general outline.

1. The principles, on which the operations of this Branch will be based, are the same as those underlying the operations of other Family Pension Funds. All subscribers who join the Branch secure substantial family pensions in case they die leaving nominees dependent on them. The pension payable to the nominees may be in many cases much larger than the subscription paid by the subscriber, e.g., if a subscriber aged 25 dies leaving a widow aged 18 after having paid subscription for say six months to the extent of a few rupees, the widow may enjoy a pension of Rs. 10 a month for 50 years or more, i.e., as long as she may live. On the other hand if both the subscriber and the nominee live for a long time or if the nominee dies before the subscriber, the Fund has some advantage. (See however Rule 59.)

2. It will be seen that such an institution for the provision of family pension is one of mutual benefit. The subscribers in a body may be said to undertake the work of maintaining the family of those amongst them who may be so unfortunate as to die leaving helpless dependents. A subscriber whose nominee dies after he has paid subscription for some time may have some satisfaction in knowing that though the contingency for which he was making the payments has not come to pass and the provision has been made unnecessary in his case, his payments will help in maintaining widows and orphans in other cases where the breadwinner has died before the nominees.

3. The fact that all permanent employees of the Mysore Government are required to insure their lives in the State Insurance office guards to some extent against the contingency of dependents of Government employees being left absolutely destitute at the death of such employees. But the interest on the insurance money is not sufficient in any case to maintain the family and for various reasons an unassignable monthly pension is a much surer and better mode of provision for widows and orphans than a lump sum. Moreover the contentment and peace of mind which results from a person feeling that a provision has been made for the maintenance of his family after his death, cannot be held to be secured by the existing insurance rules. Such contentment and peace of mind on the part of public servants are of much direct advantage to the persons themselves and of indirect advantage to the State. The scheme of family pensions is introduced to secure the above result as far as possible. It must be understood however that subscription to the Family Pension scheme will be entirely optional in the case of all present and future employees of the State, and that those who join will have perfect liberty in subscribing for any dependents they like consistently with the rules.

4. The main features of the scheme are the following:—

(1) Subscription to the Fund will be entirely optional.

(2) An official, by paying a fixed monthly subscription during his life time may secure a pension for life or for a term of years to a specified nominee, or specified nominees, such as wife, child, parent or other relative, who may survive the subscriber. If any nominee predeceases the subscriber, the latter shall not get a refund of the subscriptions paid on behalf of such nominee. (See however Rule 59 under which surpluses at actuarial valuations may be devoted to giving some refund in such cases.)

(3) Intending subscribers will be liable to medical examination; there will be no medical examination for nominees.

(4) The amount of pension which can be secured for each nominee shall be not less than Rs. 5 or more than Rs. 30 per mensem, and the aggregate amount of the pensions which may be secured for all the nominees of a subscriber shall not exceed Rs. 80 per mensem, of which not more than Rs. 60 per mensem shall be life pensions.

(5) The nominees will not be permitted to assign their pensions.

(6) Every endeavour will be made to see that the nominees get their pensions promptly, regularly and without any trouble. (Vide rules regarding payment of pensions.)

RULES REGARDING THE FAMILY PENSION BRANCH OF THE MYSORE STATE LIFE INSURANCE OFFICE.

SECTION II.

Admission of subscribers.

1. All employees of the Government of Mysore who are eligible for insurance under the Mysore State Life Insurance Rules will have the privilege of providing for the maintenance of their parents, widows, children and certain other relatives by paying additional subscription under the following rules :—

The Branch of the Mysore State Life Insurance Office dealing with such provision will be called the Family Pension Branch.

2. Every intending subscriber to the Family Pension Branch who is already in service shall submit his letter of application through the head of his office to the Secretary, Mysore State Life Insurance Committee, in such form and with such declarations as the Committee may prescribe; and on paying an entrance fee of Rs. 4 shall receive from the Secretary a letter authorising the medical officer to examine him within a month from the date of such letter. In the event of the applicant failing to appear before the medical officer within the period aforesaid, he shall be liable to forfeiture of his entrance fee, unless sufficient reason can be shown by him for non-attendance. In case of renewal of his application, he shall be required to pay a fresh entrance fee.

3. The entrance fee should be paid into the nearest treasury and the treasury receipt may be forwarded to the Secretary, Insurance office, with the application as evidence of payment.

4. The medical officer shall be entitled to a fee of Rs. 4 for each applicant who is already in the service of Government and has been examined before for State Life Insurance. He should submit periodical bills on this account to the Secretary, Insurance office, who will return them, after check, with the Comptroller's order for payment at the treasury.

5. In the case of persons newly admitted to an appointment in which insurance is admissible, the medical examination for ordinary insurance and for Family Pension should take place simultaneously. In such cases no separate medical certificate for admission to the Family Pension Branch will be required and no fee will be payable to the medical officer.

6. No person shall be admitted as a subscriber to the Family Pension Branch unless his general health be favorably reported upon by the medical officer to the satisfaction of the Senior Surgeon to the Government and the Insurance Committee.

7. When an applicant after having been once medically examined by a medical officer is required by him to be re-examined a fee of Rs. 4 for such re-examination shall be paid by the applicant.

8. The Committee may refuse to admit as a subscriber to the Fund any person applying to be so admitted, without assigning any reason whatever for such refusal.

9. All matters connected with proposals from intending subscribers shall be considered private and confidential.

10. When an applicant's proposal shall have been accepted or rejected by the Committee, due intimation of the same in writing shall be given to him by the Secretary through the head of his office within one week from the date of such decision. In case of acceptance, he shall pay the amount of his subscription for the month in which his proposal is accepted within 30 days from the date of receipt of notice of admission in cash into the nearest treasury. On failure to do so, such acceptance shall stand cancelled and in the event of his renewing his application he shall be treated in all respects as a new applicant. The names of all persons accepted as subscribers, the nature and amount of the pension subscribed for, the names, ages and condition of their nominees shall be registered in the Insurance office, and entrance certificates, in a form to be prescribed by the Committee shall be granted to such subscribers on payment of their first month's subscription. Provided that no person shall be entitled to the privileges of a subscriber until he pays his first month's subscription.

II. NATURE AND LIMIT OF PENSIONS WHICH CAN BE SECURED.

11. The amount of pension which can be secured for each parent, widow, child or relative shall range from Rs. 5 to Rs. 30 per mensem; provided that the aggregate amount of pensions securable for any number of nominees by any single applicant shall, in no case, exceed Rs. 80 per mensem, and that of this amount not more than Rs. 60 shall be life pensions.

(c) Male relative not younger than the subscriber, nor below 21 years of age.

Provided that, in the case of a widowed pensioner, the pension shall remain in abeyance during the life time of any subsequent husband.

16. A pension for life may be secured for any relative, who is afflicted with such mental or bodily infirmity as in the opinion of the Committee, based on the report of a medical officer, permanently incapacitates the person so afflicted from obtaining his livelihood, or in the case of a female, from marrying.

17. A pension for life may be secured for any married female relative whose husband is afflicted with such mental or bodily infirmity, as in the opinion of the Committee, based on the report of a medical officer of the fund, or of any other medical man to be nominated by the Committee, permanently incapacitates the husband so afflicted from obtaining his livelihood.

18. Application for admission as a subscriber shall be received from an employee desiring to secure a provision for any married female relation of good character, forsaken by her husband, or whose husband has remained unheard of for more than seven years at the date of the application. A certificate from two respectable residents of the place testifying to the correctness of the fact shall accompany the application. The applicant shall further solemnly declare the facts of the case in detail at the foot of his personal affirmation.

19. An intending subscriber may secure a provision in the Fund for a widow or orphan not related to him, but quite helpless and destitute and depending on him and living under his protection for not less than ten years at the date of the application, and bearing a good moral character. A solemn declaration to the above effect, giving in detail the facts of the case shall be given at the foot of his personal affirmation.

20. A pension for a term can be secured for any male relative under 21 years of age, and shall terminate on his completing that age.

For a pension under Rules 13-18, Table I shall apply.

For a pension under Rule 19, Table I or Table II shall apply according as the pension is for life or for a term only.

For a pension under Rules 20-21, Table II shall apply.

24. In fixing the rates of subscription, the age of the subscriber shall be ascertained and calculated according to the State Insurance Rules. The age of the nominee shall be taken as the age on the birth-day preceding the date of admission.

25. No person shall be admitted as a subscriber to the Fund who has more than one wife, living at the same time.

26. Any subscriber, contracting a subsequent marriage during the life time of his wife, shall at the discretion of the Committee, be declared liable to pay an enhanced rate not exceeding 20 per cent of the rate hitherto paid by him.

27. If the Committee decide upon accepting the proposal of an applicant whose life in their opinion, is exposed to more than ordinary hazard, but otherwise good, or if any existing subscriber shall enter into or engage in any service or employment of a hazardous nature, or if his life may otherwise become exposed to more than ordinary risk, such applicant or subscriber shall, during the continuance of such increased risk on his life, be liable to pay an augmented rate of subscription in proportion to such increased risk, not exceeding 25 per cent of the rate payable under the tables appended to these rules. The decision of the Committee as to the liability to pay an augmented rate of subscription under this rule, shall be binding upon all intending and existing subscribers from the date on which the decision may be duly notified to them.

28. Rates of pension and subscription as shown in the tables shall not be altered except with the sanction of Government and even in that case such alteration will not adversely affect contracts existing at the time of alteration.

29. A subscriber wishing to increase the amount of pension already subscribed for any nominee, or to provide for new nominees, shall, in all respects, conform to the rules and forms prescribed for observance in cases of original application for admission. The necessary endorsement shall be made on back of the entrance certificate (vide Rule 10).

30. A subscriber may reduce the amount of pension already subscribed for by him by giving notice in writing to the Secretary of his desire to do so and from the first day of the month following that in which such notice shall have been given, he shall be liable to pay a subscription at the rate provided for such lower amount of pension, provided that the subscriber so reducing the amount of a pension and the nominee in respect of whom the pension has been reduced, shall have no claim upon the Fund by reason of the higher rate heretofore paid by the subscriber. The necessary endorsement shall be made on the back of the Entrance Certificate. This rule equally applies to cases of withdrawal or cancellation of provision for nominees.

31. Subscription received beyond the date of death of a subscriber, or death or withdrawal of nominees of such subscriber shall be refunded.

32. A duplicate copy of the Entrance Certificate may be issued to a subscriber on payment of a fee of one rupee, if he satisfies the Committee that the original has been lost or destroyed. From the date of issue of the duplicate copy, the original shall cease to be binding on the Fund.

In the event of a subscriber failing to pay his subscription during the period within which it becomes due according to the prescribed rules he and his nomineee shall forfeit all claims on the Fund which he or they may have acquired. Provided that, in case, of the death of a subscriber before payment of his subscription within one month of default, the default shall not operate as a forfeiture of the claims of his nominee but the amount of the subscription in arrears shall in the first place be deducted from the pension payable to such nominee.

38. Provided further that subscriptions paid subsequent to forfeiture of claims on the Fund, shall not operate to revive them without the express orders of the Committee.

39. The pension to nominees is payable only after the subscriber's death.

40. GENERAL AND REVENUE.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

No. G. 6729-76—G. M. 278-10-1, dated 19th May 1911.

ORDER.—HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA has had under his consideration for some time the desirability of associating men of enlightenment within the State, public-spirited citizens, prominent agriculturists, merchants, etc., with the officers of Government in deliberations connected with economic progress in Mysore.

2. The Representative Assembly goes a certain way in this direction, but it is obvious that a large body meeting and deliberating only once a year can do but little. Public interest in the numerous questions of the kind under consideration, which claim attention, can only be kept alive by a constant interchange of views and discussions among those competent to deal with them. In His Highness' opinion, what is needed is a series of Conferences to stimulate the capacity for effort among the people and to suggest the adoption of practical measures by Government, where Government can render assistance.

3. It is therefore proposed that advantage should be taken of the occasion of the festivities connected with the Birthday of His Highness the Maharaja in June every year, when the Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts assemble in Mysore, for holding an annual Conference to discuss the more important questions that affect the material prosperity of the State. It will be the duty of the Conference to work up, progressively, the various questions which they deal with, till they are ripe for practical action. There are many questions on which the public themselves have to take action or in which their co-operation is needed. The functions of the Conference will not overlap those of the Representative Assembly. The members of the Legislative Council, two of whom are nominated on the recommendation of the Assembly, will be members of the Conference.

4. The following officers and gentlemen will constitute the Conference:—

President—The Dewan of Mysore.
Vice-Presidents—The Members of Council.
Members—

(1) Selected Heads of Departments.
(2) Members of the Legislative Council.
(3) Selected retired officers of Government.
(4) Deputy Commissioners.
(5) Leading private gentlemen selected from the classes named in para 1 supra, not less than six nor more than eight in number.

The selection of members under (1), (3) and (5) will be by the Government and the names of the members selected will be published in the official Gazette. Persons thus nominated will be members of the Conference for a period of three years from the date of nomination, and at the expiry of such period will be eligible to be again nominated. Members of the Legislative Council will be members of the Conference as long as they continue to be on the Legislative Council.

5. The Conference will meet ordinarily in June every year, but for the consideration of any important questions, meetings may be convened at other times of the year by a special order of His Highness the Maharaja. The time and place of the meetings of the Conference will be notified to the members beforehand.

6. A list of subjects which may be dealt with by the Conference is appended to this Order. Any additions which may suggest themselves may also be made to this list from time to time by the Conference. It should be clearly understood that the Conference shall not discuss any questions which concern the prerogative of His Highness the Maharaja, the constitution of the State, its relations with the Government of India or the policy of the Supreme Government.

7. The Deputy Commissioners of Districts, who are members of the Conference, should consult the leading men of their districts in regard to the subjects suggested for discussion and come to the Conference posted with the views of such men, so that they may be able to represent public opinion as well as their own.

8. For the present the proceedings of the Conference will not be open to the public and the discussions should be treated as confidential. Such recommendations as have the support of two-thirds of the Conference may be submitted in the form of resolutions for the consideration of Government. Government may take such action as it deems fit on these resolutions.

9. From the list of subjects, the Conference will select questions which may usefully be taken up for study and discussion, and appoint Committees composed of official and non-official members to carry on its work in the following year. Sub-Committees composed of officials, members of the Representative Assembly, and non-officials may also be appointed by the Conference—one in each district—under the supervision of the Deputy Commissioners. These Sub-Committees will develop work in the districts under the guidance of the Central Committees.

10. To begin with, an officer of Government will be appointed as Secretary to the Conference and will also act as Secretary to each Committee appointed by the Conference. With him there may be associated an Honorary Secretary selected from among the non-official members.

11. The Committees and Sub-Committees should meet once a month and oftener, if necessary. On every question considered by the Committees, correct information should first be collected in regard to its importance to the Province and a note or monograph prepared embodying the same. The next step will be to compare conditions in Mysore with those in other countries or localities. The Committee may issue their monographs to the public and the press in order to stimulate public discussion. The cost of printing the monographs will be borne by Government. The Committees may consult any expert opinion both within and outside the State. It will be their duty to collect information of value from every quarter and make it available both to the Government and the public in an easily assimilable form. Ordinarily the Committees will report their opinions and recommendations to the Conference once a year, before the end of March, so as to be available to the Conference during the next Session.

12. The first Session of the Conference will commence on Thursday the 8th June 1911 and may be continued on two succeeding days. It is suggested that, in the first year, three Committees may be appointed by the Conference, and the subjects selected distributed among them. The Conference may also suggest any modifications that may be considered necessary in the rules above laid down, to ensure the smooth working of the scheme and to increase its usefulness, and also adopt such subsidiary rules as may be required.

N. B.—As there is likely to be some objection in future regarding the right of raiyats to repair the several kattes now included in the reservation, as the Forest Department is not likely to be interested in maintaining them and as their maintenance is very necessary in the interests of cattle owing to the poor rainfall in these tracts, the raiyats are entitled to repair the respective kattes when the same fall into disrepair.

For rule 10, sub-rule (2) in Appendix A, substitute the following:—

(2) Cylinders must be made of wrought iron or mild steel of the best quality, containing not more than 0·25 per centum of carbon and must comply in every other respect with the recommendations made by the Departmental Committee on compressed gas cylinders appointed by the Secretary of State for the Home Department in 1895, and must not exceed 8 feet in length and 10 inches in diameter.

Special attention is directed to the following extract from the recommendations of the Departmental Committee.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS.

I.—CYLINDERS OF COMPRESSED GAS (OXYGEN, HYDROGEN, OR COAL GAS).

(a) Lap-welded wrought iron.—Greatest working pressure, 120 atmospheres, or 1,800 lbs. per square inch.

Stress due to working pressure not to exceed 6½ tons per square inch.

Proof pressure in hydraulic test, after annealing, 224 atmospheres, or 3,360 lbs. per square inch.

Permanent stretch in hydraulic test not to exceed 10 per cent of the elastic stretch.

One cylinder in 50 to be subjected to a statical bending test, and to stand crushing nearly flat between two rounded knife edges without cracking.

(b) Lap-welded or seamless steel.—Greatest working pressure, 120 atmosphere, or 1,800 lbs. per square inch.

Stress due to working pressure not to exceed 7½ tons per square inch in lap-welded, or 8 tons per square inch in seamless cylinders.

Carbon in steel not to exceed 0·25 per cent., or iron to be less than 99 per cent.

Tenacity of steel not to be less than 26 or more than 33 tons per square inch. Ultimate elongation not less than 1·2 inches in 8 inches. Test bar to be cut from finished annealed cylinder.

Proof pressure in hydraulic test, after annealing, 224 atmospheres, or 3,360 lbs. per square inch.

Permanent stretch shown by water jacket not to exceed 10 per cent of elastic stretch.

One cylinder in 50 to be subjected to a statical bending test and to stand crushing nearly flat between rounded knife edges without cracking.

Regulations applicable to all cylinders.

Cylinders to be marked with a rotation number, a manufacturer's or owner's mark, an annealing mark with date, a test mark with date. The marks to be permanent and easily visible.

Testing to be repeated at least every two years, and annealing at least every four years.

A record to be kept of all tests.

Cylinders which fail in testing to be destroyed or rendered useless.

Hydrogen and coal gas cylinders to have left-handed threads for attaching connections, and to be painted red.

The compressing apparatus to have two pressure gauges and an automatic arrangement for preventing overcharging. The compressing apparatus for oxygen to be wholly distinct and unconnected with the compressing apparatus for hydrogen and coal gas.

Cylinders not to be refilled till they have been emptied.

If cylinders are sent out unpacked, the valve fittings should be protected by a steel cap.

A minimum weight to be fixed for each size of cylinder in accordance with its required thickness. Cylinders of less weight to be rejected.

II.—CYLINDERS FOR CARBONIC ACID.

Greatest working pressure to be reckoned as 120 atmospheres.

Cylinders to be of lap-welded wrought iron, lap-welded steel or seamless steel. Stresses, tests, and conditions as to repetition of tests to be the same as for oxygen cylinders.

The marking to be the same with the addition of the weight of the cylinder empty, and the greatest permissible weight of carbonic acid it may contain.

No cylinder to contain more than $\frac{3}{4}$ lb. of carbonic acid per pound of water capacity, if for this country (i.e., England), or $\frac{2}{3}$ lb. per pound of water capacity, if for the tropics.

If cylinders are sent out unpacked, the valve fittings should be protected by a steel cap.

A notice should be affixed to the cylinder that it contains carbonic acid, and that it should be kept cool and not exposed to the sun or the heat of a stove.

III.—CYLINDERS FOR AMMONIA.

Greatest working pressure to be reckoned as 1,000 lbs. per square inch.

Hydraulic test pressure 1,500 lbs. per square inch.

Greatest working stress 7 tons per square inch for steel, and 6 tons per square inch for wrought iron.

In other respects the material, tests, and rule for repetition of tests to be the same as for oxygen cylinders.

The marking to be similar to that for oxygen cylinders, but the weight of cylinder empty and the greatest permissible weight of ammonia it may contain to be added.

Ammonia cylinders should not contain more than 0·5 lb. per pound of water capacity.

If cylinders are sent out unpacked the valve fittings should be protected by a steel cap.

A notice should be affixed to the cylinder that it contains ammonia, and that it should be kept cool and not exposed to the sun or the heat of a stove.

IV.—CYLINDER FITTINGS.

No oil or similar lubricant to be used for cylinder valves, pressure gauges, regulators, or other fittings.

Pressure gauges to have a check to prevent a sudden inrush of gas.

Pressure gauges for hydrogen and coal gas to have left-handed screws, and to be painted red.

For the Form of Certificate prescribed in rule 10, sub-rule (7), substitute the following:—

Form of Certificate.

Certified that the cylinder/cylinders containing _____ _____ tendered by me/us as per forwarding Order No._____ of this date to the_____ Railway for despatch to_____ Station has/have been packed and tested in accordance, and that the cylinder complies/cylinders comply in every other respect, with the rules in Appendix A, Part II of the General Rules for working open lines of railway.

No. G. 853—G. M. 173-10-6, dated 8th August 1911.

The following resolution of the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 4675—4722-51, dated 26th June 1911, directing the grant of six more holidays to the Post Office in India is published for general information :—

RESOLUTION.

In the Resolution of the Government of India, No. 7843—7880-51, dated the 29th October 1910, certain proposals for increasing the number of Post Office holidays were published for criticism, with the intimation that if there was a generally expressed desire on the part of the public to afford relief in the matter of holidays to the employees of the Post Office, the question would be further considered. The replies which have been received from Local Governments, public bodies and private persons are almost unanimously favourable to the proposals. Modifications have been suggested in some respects, the most important being that the additional Post Office holidays should be selected without exception from festivals notified as public holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act. The Government of India are unable to accept this view. If the extra holidays were confined to days gazetted under the Negotiable Instruments Act, certain important religious festivals, which the Government of India consider it particularly desirable that postal servants should be permitted to celebrate, would have to be omitted from the list. It would be impossible, for instance, to allow any holidays for Mahomedans in Eastern Bengal and Assam. It is moreover desirable that the additional holidays should be, as far as possible, uniform in all the postal circles, and the selection of certain days which are not gazetted public holidays throughout India has been in some instances unavoidable. In order, however, to prevent any inconvenience to the public, special arrangements for the disposal of postal business will, if necessary, be made at important centres on occasions when a Post Office holiday is not also a holiday under the Negotiable Instruments Act, and on all the holidays the arrangements, which are at present followed on Sundays, will be made for the despatch and delivery of mails.

The only other modifications in the proposals published with their Resolution, dated the 29th October 1910, which the Government of India consider necessary, are the substitution in all circles except Madras and Burma of Id-uz-zuha for Muharram, the substitution in the Punjab Circle of Baisakhi for Janmastami, and the reduction of the additional holidays from six to four in the Burma Circle, where postal work is lighter than elsewhere.

2. The Government of India have accordingly decided that, with effect from the year 1912 and until further orders, the following days shall ordinarily be observed as additional Post Office holidays :—

For all Circles except Madras and Burma.—

(1) Id-uz-zuha.
(2) Holi or Doljatra.
(3) Janmastami or Gokul Ashtami (Baisakhi in the Punjab Circle.)
(4) Id-ul-Fitr or Ramzan.
(5) Dasehra or one day of the Pujas.
(6) Divali or Kali Puja.

FOR MADRAS.

(1) Pongul.
(2) Mahasivarathri (or Telugu New Year).
(3) Avani Avittam (or Tamil New Year).
(4) Ayuda Puja.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

No. 1402—San. 33-11-3, dated 15*th August* 1911.

The following letter No 1265—1275, dated the 18th July 1911, from the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Education, to all Local Governments and Administrations, and its enclosure are published for general information :—

"I am directed to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council / His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, / for your information, a copy of a telegram to the Government of Bombay No. 1261, dated the 14th July 1911, regarding the issue of passports to pilgrims proceeding to the Hedjaz.

2. The effect of the application of the new Turkish Passport Regulations will be that all pilgrims from India will be bound to take out passports and also to have them visaed by the Turkish Consul General at Bombay before proceeding to the Hedjaz. They will be further required to pay a fee of 20 Piastres for the visa but bonâ fide indigent pilgrims will be exempted on production of a certificate of indigence from their District Magistrate. Pilgrims arriving at the Hedjaz without duly visaed passports will, under the Turkish regulations, be liable to a fine of 40 Piastres.

3. I am to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council / His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, etc. immediate steps may be taken to give wide publicity to the decision of the Turkish Government and that pilgrims for the coming Haj may be warned to secure a passport locally before proceeding on their journeys or, where this is not possible, to apply for one on arrival in Bombay to the Commissioner of Police. The Government of India are of opinion that there is no need to alter the existing form of pilgrims' passports (the supply of which has hitherto been optional) except to delete paragraphs 1 and 2 of the notice to pilgrims which is printed at the foot of the form, and I am to request that instructions may be issued to have this done. It is presumed that local Governments have a supply of forms of pilgrims' passports but to provide against possible insufficiency the Government of India are arranging that 1,000 copies should be sent to the Government of Madras / Bombay, etc. / you as soon as possible. Application for further copies if required should be made direct to the Assistant to the Officer in charge of the Records of the Government of India, Calcutta."

No. 2831—42.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), under date Calcutta, the 8th December 1899.

RESOLUTION.

The Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians, who desire to return to their country, and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily, the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England, the desirability of providing themselves before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

GENERAL AND REVENUE.

No. 2017—San. 33-11-5, dated 12*th September* 1911.

The following letter No. 1480—1490, dated the 16th August 1911, from the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Education (Sanitary), to all Local Governments and Administrations, is republished for general information in continuation of Notification No. 1402—San. 33-11-3, dated the 15th August 1911 :—

"In continuation of this Department letter No. 1265-1275, dated the 18th July 1911, regarding the application of the Turkish Passport Regulations to Indian pilgrims proceeding to Mecca, I am directed to say that the Government of India have been informed by the Government of Bombay that the arrangements made at the Turkish Consulate there are not working smoothly and that the pilgrims associate this unpopular tax with the British Government. The Government of India accordingly think it important that in all notifications on the subject prominence should be given to the fact that the new procedure is the work of the Turkish Government and that Officers who deal with pilgrims should explain personally to them that this is not the result of any action by the British Government: but that on the contrary that Government has made strong representations against the new procedure."

In supersession of the rules issued under Government Notification No. 15229—R. F. 155-92, dated 15th March 1895, the following revised rules for the sale of timber by public auction are approved by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore and published for general information :—

I. Procedure.

1. Every auction sale shall be held by the Forest Officer in charge of the District or other Forest Officer not below the rank of Sub-Assistant Conservator deputed by the Deputy Commissioner.

2. Subject to the minima prices which may be fixed from time to time by the Conservator of Forests, but which will not be divulged, the highest bidder shall ordinarily be the purchaser. But the officer conducting the sale can reject any bid or stop the sale at any stage without assigning any reason to the intending purchasers. Should any lot be disputed, it shall be again put up and sold.

3. Each purchaser shall, immediately after a lot has been knocked down to him, pay as earnest money a sum of rupees five and sign his name opposite the number and specification of the lot bought by him, in a book provided for the purpose. Such payment and signature shall be held as admission on his part of having bought such lot and of having accepted the terms of sale as herein specified.

II. Payments how to be made.

4. Immediately after the sale, each purchaser will be furnished with a memo showing the total amount due by him and with a chalan to pay immediately twenty-five per cent of such amount as a deposit into the Taluk Treasury at the place, or if there is no such Treasury, to pay the same into the nearest Taluk Treasury before the close of the 3rd or 5th day from the date of the sale as circumstances may require, regard being paid to the distance of the Taluk Treasury. A receipt for the deposit money will be granted by the Treasury Officer and must be presented to the Forest Officer at once if the Treasury is at the place of sale and if otherwise before the close of the fifth or eighth day from date of sale as fixed. The Forest Officer will initial the receipt and enter on its face the date of presentation. Should any purchaser fail to comply with this rule, the Forest Officer shall be at liberty to resell all or any portion of the timber purchased by such defaulter, who shall be required to make good any loss, but shall not participate in any profit on such resale. The amount due by such defaulter shall be recovered from him as a revenue demand.

5. The whole quantity purchased by each purchaser must be paid for within thirty days from the date of sale or within such further period not exceeding 90 days from the date of sale under the special orders of the Conservator of Forests; failing which, the earnest and deposit moneys already paid in shall be forfeited to Government and the timber not paid for shall be resold. Moneys due may be paid into the Treasury of the talûk in which the depot is situated or into the District Treasury, but into no other, except in cases where the purchasers are permitted to pay into any other Government Treasury in accordance with the chalans issued to them.

III. Delivery of timber.

6. No timber shall be delivered to any purchaser until it has been paid for in full.

IV. Permit for removal.

7. No timber can be removed from the depot till a permit to remove timber signed by the Forest Officer in charge of the depot shall have been obtained.

V. Depot rent.

8. Timber paid for, may be removed at any time within thirty days from the date of sale, without payment of depot rent; but if left in the depot longer than thirty days from date of sale, such timber will remain at the risk of the purchaser and further shall be charged with depot rent at Rs. 6-4-0 per cent per annum on the sale amount from date of sale. If the timber be not removed within thirty days from date of sale, the same may after ten days' notice to the purchaser, be sold by public auction for the recovery of rent and costs, after due publicity of the sale, subject to full payment at once and immediate removal, and the balance of sale proceeds, if any, shall be paid to the original purchaser. If before such sale is concluded, the original purchaser tenders the rent due and cost, he shall be allowed to remove his timber. The Conservator of Forests may remit any portion of rent not exceeding three months' rent in any case on sufficient grounds being shown.

NOTE.—For the convenience of purchasers the quarter deposit or the whole of the sale amount will be received and acknowledged by the officer conducting the sale, if tendered on the spot at the time of sale.

Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906, be passed, said:—

Sir,—As MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY, who was to have moved this proposition, has had to preside over our deliberations to-day, it has fallen to my lot to move this motion. I need say nothing in support of it as the Bill has been before the Council at various stages and as it was resolved at the last meeting that it be passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. I now beg formally to move that the Bill be passed.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was put and agreed to.

Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, then said:—Sir,—I now beg to move formally that the Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation, 1902, be passed.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Partition Bill.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill to amend the law relating to Partition be read in Council, said:—

Sir,—This Bill has been before the Council already, and at the last meeting of the Council I explained the nature and scope of the measure that is now proposed to be introduced. It is not necessary for me at this stage to say anything more about it. I move that the Bill be read in Council.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR, in seconding the motion, said:—Sir,—In view of the next motion on the agenda, I refrain from making any remarks at this stage though the provisions of the draft Bill are not calculated to meet all the objections to the existing law which have been urged by the Representative Assembly before Government. These are however matters to be considered in the Select Committee. I beg to second the motion. The motion was put to the vote and agreed to.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA next moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Rajamantrapravina Mr. C. Srinivasiengar, Mr. M. C. Rangiengar, Mr. D. Shama Rao, Mr. C. S. Doraswami Iyer and himself.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Bill for the Protection of Judicial Officers.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill for the Protection of Judicial Officers be read in Council, said:—

Sir,—The Bill has been duly published in the Gazette. It is a short one and I may just as well take the permission of the Council to read it.

He then read the provisions of the Bill and continued :—It is a well-known rule of law that Judicial Officers should be exempt from liability, either Civil or Criminal, for all acts done in the execution of their judicial duty. Even in the absence of this enactment the principle would be recognised in a court of law, that such officers cannot be sued for acts done by them in the exercise of their judicial functions. I may read to you a passage from an authoritative text book showing how in the absence of such an enactment the law would stand.

"The rule is that no action will lie against a judge for any acts done or words spoken in his judicial capacity in a court of justice; and the exemption is not confined to the judges of superior courts. It is founded on the necessity of Judges being independent in the exercise of their duties ;A Judge is not liable in trespass for attaching goods unless he knew or ought to have known that he had no jurisdiction, and it lies on the plaintiff to prove wtnt of jurisdiction. The conclusion formed by a Judge acting judicially on a mater of fact that is within his jurisdiction to determine, cannot be disputed in an action for anything judicially done by him upon the footing of that conclusion." (Pollock on Torts.)

While considering the Civil Procedure Bill, the Select Committee thought that it would be better to introduce the provision contained in Act XVIII of 1850 of British India into the Statute Book of Mysore. This Bill has been framed after that British Act. While passing the Civil Procedure Code, it was found necessary to put in Section 152A for the purpose of giving certain protection to judicial officers. That was in connection with sales. We found it necessary to do it because the provision contained in the Bill was not in force. Now there would no longer be any necessity for keeping Section 152A in the C. P. C. and so it is proposed in clause 2 of this Bill to repeal that section. I beg now to move that the Bill be read in Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER, in seconding the motion, said :—Sir,—I beg to second the motion and in seconding I only have to add that the act clearly distinguishes judicial acts from executive acts or acts which are of an administrative nature from acts which are done in the exercise of any power that is vested by law. It is the judicial acts of Magistrates and Judges that are sought to be protected under this Regulation for the simple reason that on account of public policy acts done bonâ fide in the exercise of their jurisdiction or supposed to have been done in the exercise of their jurisdiction should be protected. This Act has been in force for nearly 50 years and more and it seems to have worked well. The principle to be found in several Acts relating to the subject has been consolidated here. I shall read what Sir Lawrence Jenkins says regarding this provision in a recent judgment. He says, "The protection afforded rests on public policy; and though thereby a malicious Judge or Magistrate may gain a protection designed not for him but in the public interest, it does not follow that he can exercise his malice with impunity. So there is no fear that a malicious Judge will be protected by the Act." With these few words I beg to second the motion that has been put by the Second Councillor.

The motion was then put to the vote and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, next moved that the above Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council: He said :—

Sir,—The provision which is meant to be introduced by the Bill now before the Council is a very simple one. The principle has been long recognised. There is no dispute as to its applicability and so it is unnecessary to go through all the formal procedure for passing Bills in the Council. I therefore move that this Bill for the Protection of Judicial Officers be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill be considered and adopted by the Council. MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was passed.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA next moved that the Bill be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Bill to amend the Indian Contract Act.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill further to amend the Indian Contract Act, as in force in Mysore, be read in Council, said :—

SIR,—The next measure relates to the amendment of the Indian Contract Act as it is in force in Mysore. Both the Bill and the statement of Objects and Reasons are printed and supplied to the members of the Council. The scope of the alterations will be easily seen therefrom. The principles underlying the provision of the Bill have long been elaborated in Courts of Equity in England and have been embodied more or less in propositions in authorised text-books of law. When this Bill was before the Government of India Council, it was threshed out in great detail and the Bill as originally framed was considerably modified when it went before the Select Committee. From a perusal of the discussions which were held in that Council, I find that no serious objection was raised to the principles introduced in the present Bill and that they were all admitted to be beneficial in their operation. I may go briefly through the provisions of the Bill and show in what manner it affects the law as it stands at present. The first clause is the usual one about title, extent, commencement and application. The fourth sub-clause of that clause is what may give rise to some difference of opinion. It runs as follows :—

"It shall apply to every contract in respect of which any suit is instituted or which is put in issue in any suit after the commencement of this Regulation."

The justification for that provision is that the provisions embodied in the Bill are declared to be the law as it may reasonably be interpreted by the Courts to be the existing law. Then the next provision is one that deals with "undue influence" and gives a better definition of "undue influence" than is contained in the present Section 16 of the Contract Act. The provision as it stands at present is this :—

"Undue influence" is said to be employed in the following cases :—

(1) When a person in whom confidence is reposed by another, or who holds a real or apparent authority over that other, makes use of such confidence or authority for the purpose of obtaining an advantage over that other, which, but for such confidence or authority, he could not have obtained.

(2) When a person whose mind is enfeebled by old age, illness or mental or bodily distress is so treated as to make him consent to that to which, but for such treatment, he would not have consented, although such treatment, may not amount to coercion."

This, as it stands, merely gives two instances in which undue influence may be said to exist. The provision embodied in the new Section 16 tries to give a more logical definition of "undue influence." But I do not suppose it is meant to be a definition in the logical sense; it is meant to be a more scientific description of undue influence. What we propose to substitute for Section 16 is this :—

"(1) A contract is said to be induced by undue influence when the relations subsisting between the parties are such that one of the parties is in a position to dominate the will of the other and uses that position to obtain an unfair advantage over the other."

Then follow some instances in which undue influence may be said to exist :—

"(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing principle, a person is deemed to be in a position to dominate the will of another—

(a) where he holds a real or apparent authority over the other, or where he stands in a fiduciary relation to the other; or

(b) where he makes a contract with a person whose mental capacity is temporarily or permanently affected by reason of age, illness, or mental or bodily distress."

The next sub-clause gives a rule, about the burden of proof. But this does not affect Section 111 of the Indian Evidence Act which is perhaps wider in its operation.

In regard to the proposed modification on this point I may observe at this stage that contracts will not be tainted by undue influence merely because at the time the parties entered into the contract one of them was in a position of advantage in relation to the other. It is not only the contract that is to be taken into consideration but some antecedent relation between the parties. One of them must bear some relation to the other independent of the contract which is a relation likely to give him an opportunity to dominate over the will of the other. The illustrations given show clearly the applicability of the principles embodied in the section.

The next section that is meant to be amended is Section 19. It runs thus:—

"When consent to an agreement is caused by coercion, undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation, the agreement is a contract voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so caused."

That is, the contract stands legal, but the party who has been induced to enter into the contract by means of coercion, undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation has the right to repudiate the contract. So it is said to be voidable and the person who can avoid it is the person who has been induced by means of any of those vitiating circumstances to enter into the contract. It is proposed to omit the words "undue influence" in this Section 19 and add a new Section 19 A, which is practically the same as that which now exists, viz.—

"When consent to an agreement is caused by undue influence, the agreement is a contract voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so caused."

What follows is an addition. "Any such contract may be set aside either absolutely or, if the party who was entitled to avoid it has received any benefit thereunder, upon such terms and conditions as to the Court may seem just."

If the contract is made voidable, it must be either accepted in its entirety or altogether avoided and in the latter case no legal consequences can attach to it. That is meant to be modified, in this manner, viz., if the party has received any benefit, he may avoid the contract on such terms as to the Court may seem just.

In the fourth clause, the alteration is a merely verbal one. In Section 25, instead of the word "assurances" we insert the word "documents." The next alteration is also of the same kind.

Then as to the next alteration. It is perhaps a misprint that has crept into the Act. The word "composition" will now be substituted for the word "compensation" occurring in illustration (e) to Section 63.

Then we come to Section 74. Paragraph 1 of the section stands thus:—

"When a contract has been broken, if a sum is named in the contract as the amount to be paid in case of such breach, the party complaining of the breach is entitled, whether or not actual damage or loss is proved to have been caused thereby, to receive from the party who has broken the contract reasonable compensation not exceeding the amount so named."

The principle on which the Courts act in such a case is that the amount mentioned in the contract is what is in legal language in the nature of a penalty. The party is not necessarily entitled to recover the whole amount. He is only entitled to recover reasonable compensation for the loss he sustained. The alteration that is meant to be made is in these words:—

"When a contract has been broken, if a sum is named in the contract as the amount to be paid in case of such breach, or if the contract contains any other stipulation by way of penalty, the party complaining of the breach is entitled, whether or not actual damage or loss is proved to have been caused thereby, to receive from the party who has broken the contract reasonable compensation not exceeding the amount so named, or, as the case may be, the penalty stipulated for."

Then there is an explanation which also is new:—"A stipulation for increased interest from the date of default may be a stipulation by way of penalty."

Then some additional illustrations are given. There have been cases in which even 75% interest has been allowed and Courts have declined to interfere with the contract of the parties. That explanation coupled with illustration (d) to be added will give power to the Courts to interfere with the contract of the parties in cases where they consider the terms exorbitant or unconscionable. I have next to invite your attention to the explanation to clause 7 in the statement of objects and reasons. These are all the provisions which are meant to be affected by the Bill before us. As I stated already, the principles underlying these changes were all very well and elaborately discussed in the Council of the Government of India; and from a perusal of the discussions I am led to think that there need not be any hesitation in accepting all these changes. It is not my intention to force my view on the honourable members of this Council for acceptance but it seems to me that there is not much gained by going through all the usual processes of referring the Bill to a Select Committee, considering their report and so on. I therefore formally move that this Bill be read in Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER, in seconding the motion, said:—

Sir,—I beg to second the motion and in doing so I only wish to say that it is unnecessary to deal elaborates with the reasons for introducing these changes. The learned mover has said that the Bill has been before the Legislative Council both in the Council as well as in the meeting of the Select Committee and that there is hardly any room now left therefore for discussion. The amendment simply codifies the general principle underlying what was given by way of illustration in Section 16 of the old Act. An attempt at codification of what "undue influence" is meant to be in Courts of Equity in England is made here. We have in the Indian Statute Book an example of "undue influence" in Section 48 of the Indian Succession Act and some of the illustrations thereto. The Contract Act being complete in itself, it is only proper that there should be a complete definition of it in the Act itself. Section 19 A is only an amplification of the principles contained in the definition of "undue influence" in Section 16, and the latter portion of Section 19 A refers to cases where a party who has entered into an unconscionable transaction with another wants to retain the benefit of it. That ought not to be given to him and the principle on which it is based is to be found both in Section 64 of the Indian Contract Act and Section 38 of the Specific Relief Act.

Coming to Section 74, the explanation does not take away from the Court the discretion vested in it of allowing any rate of interest, if not a penalty, if the higher rate of interest is not extravagant. and there is no other indication that a penalty was intended. The word used is "may," not "shall." With these few observations I beg to second the motion.

The motion was put and agreed to.

MR. H V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the above Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council, said:—

Sir,—If it is acceptable to the honourable members that we need not carry the Bill through all the normal stages of a Bill submitted to the Council, I beg to move that the above Bill be not referred to a Select Committee. If, however, it is the sense of the meeting that the Bill had better go before a Select Committee, I shall not oppose the suggestion but I shall gladly amend my proposition.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR:—Sir,—Sub-section (4) of Section 1 is calculated to entail some hardship on suitors. I think it requires further consideration. In so far as the words "suit instituted" are concerned there is no difficulty, but there are the further words "or which is put in issue in any suit." That suit might have been filed before this Bill becomes law and decided ex parte and an appeal might have been preferred, in which case also the amendment will apply as the draft stands at present. Whether such a state of the law is satisfactory or not, must be discussed by a Select Committee, I should think.

MR C. S. DORASWAMI IYER, then said:—

Sir,—The observations made by Mr. M. C. Rangiengar seem to be very pertinent. I took particular care to read the judgments of the High Courts of Madras and Allahabad since the passing of the amendment in the years 1901 and 1902, when the question came up for decision by both the High Courts. The Madras High Court had to deal earlier with the subject. The Chief Justice who delivered the judgment seems to be of opinion that the amendment is defective. In his opinion "it applies to every contract in respect of which any suit is instituted or which is put in issue in any suit instituted after the commencement of the Act." He would have the word "instituted" inserted before "after" with a view to make it very clear that the amendment refers to two distinct cases, in both of which the suit must have been instituted after the commencement of the Amendment Act. As it is, it would appear as if the contract could be put in issue even if the suit was instituted before the commencement of the operation of the Act, no matter at what stage it is, whether it is in first appeal or second appeal. And the Allahabad High Court is of opinion that the amended section applies without regard to the question when the suit was instituted. Since we have the benefit of the difference of opinion of two High Courts, the proposition may be moved with the word "instituted" added after the word "suit" in line 2.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then said that he would adopt the suggestion made by the members and that if he did so there would be no necessity as far as he could see for the Bill going into Select Committee. He therefore moved formally that the Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, then said:—

With your permission, Sir, I beg to move that, in clause (1), sub-clause (4), of this Bill, the word "instituted" be inserted after the word "suit" in line 2.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill be considered and adopted by the Council.

Mr. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA next moved that the Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. The motion was put and agreed to.

Bill to provide for the establishment of Village Courts in Mysore.

Mr. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill to provide for the establishment of Village Courts in Mysore be read in Council, spoke as follows:—

Sir,—This Bill and the statement of objects and reasons were referred to and explained by me when I submitted the Bill the first time to the Council. It is unnecessary for me, therefore, to go over the same ground again as the next proposition is that the Bill should be referred to a Select Committee.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Bill was then referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. M. C. Rangiengar, Syed Amir Hassan, M. Narain Rao, K. S. Doraswami Iyer, and H. V. Nanjundayya.

Bill to further amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill further to amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code, 1888, be read in Council, said:—

Sir,—This motion refers to the Bill to further amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code. In the year 1906, a case entitled Subba Rao v. Vira Naika which is reported at page 118 of Vol. XI of the Mysore Chief Court Reports came up for decision by the Chief Court. I had the honor of being one of the Judges who decided that case. There a majority of the Judges held that the money payable by an inferior holder (whether a khadim tenant or not) to a superior holder in an alienated village was not a charge on the holding in respect of which the arrears accrued and that the period of limitation applicable to suits for the recovery of such dues was six years. Government consider that a superior holder in an Inam village is in respect of the rent payable to him in the same position as Government in a Government village in respect of the revenue payable to them. In the Madras Estates Land Act which applies to zemindars and landholders, a right of first charge has been conceded to the superior holder. Arrears due to Government are a paramount charge. The first charge that is now to be conceded, though not perhaps equivalent to a paramount charge, will give the superior holder all the protection that he needs. If we make it a charge on the holding, then suits for the recovery of rent due in respect of such lands will fall under the rule of limitation contained in Article 132 of the First Schedule of the Mysore Limitation Regulation. The period now applicable as decided by the Chief Court is six years. I may say that the foundation for this view is somewhat uncertain. One of the Judges who decided that case considered that the money in the nature of revenue payable to a Superior Holder was not rent and that therefore the period of limitation was six years. Another of the Judges held that though it was rent yet that the six-year period was applicable; while the Chief Judge considered that the period was only three years as for rent. So each of the three Judges seems to have taken a different view of the matter. So that when a case of this kind comes before a court again, it is difficult to say how exactly it will be decided. To remove this uncertainty it is meant to put in this Bill a clause that the limitation applicable to such suits shall be six years.

Clause 2 of the Bill effects a slight alteration in Section 97 of the Land Revenue Code. The superior holder may resort to the Deputy Commissioner for the issue of coercive processes; but he can do so only in respect of one year's rent now. Under the law as proposed to be modified, he will be able to recover two years' arrears through the agency of the Revenue Department. This provision is calculated to benefit the tenant as much as it does the superior holder.

I may perhaps add that the alteration proposed to be made by clause I of the Bill is no violent innovation. The proposal is to give in respect of rents also the right of first charge. That the superior holder has some sort of a lien is recognised in all the British Indian Acts relating to land revenue. That is the justification for giving this recognition to rent also. I may refer to passages in Acts having force in British India in which the right of first charge is recognised.

The speaker then read and commented upon various sections of the Madras Rent Recovery Act and of the Tenancy Acts of the United Provinces, the Punjab and Bengal, and proceeded,—

"All these provisions will clearly show that wherever an occupancy right is recognised in favour of the tenant, or he has any saleable interest in the holding, the landlord has a corresponding right of charging such right or interest with the burden of the rent due to him. The question of a first charge will, of course, never arise in the case of a precarious tenancy under which the tenant obtains no sort of interest in the holding itself."

Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya then moved that the Bill to further amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code be read in Council.

Mr. C. S. Doraswami Iyer, in seconding the motion, said:—

Sir,—In the absence of Mr. Ramanna I beg leave to second the motion. It is clear that the Inamdars claimed a footing of equality with Government with reference to rent payable to them, and wanted a paramount charge but Government is pleased to give them only a first charge. This is a matter in which the Inamdars are shown some indulgence. With these observations, I beg to second the motion.

The President Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty.—

Gentlemen,—The proposition moved by my honourable colleague was to have been moved by me and it was my intention to have said a few words on the subject. In the circumstances explained so lucidly by Mr. Nanjundayya, I have great pleasure in supporting the motion. I shall now make a few observations on the motion.

In the year 1906 a majority of the Judges of the Chief Court decided that the rent or revenue payable by an inferior holder (whether a Khadim tenant or not) to a superior holder in respect of land in an Inam village could not be enforced as a charge on the holding in respect of which the arrears accrued. As a result of this decision it has been represented that, in a large number of cases, the Inamdars are put to considerable difficulty in recovering from their tenants the arrears of land revenue due to them. You are aware that very often it may happen that the tenant possesses no property other than his holding from which the superior holder could hope to recover his dues. In such cases he looks only to the tenant's interest in the land as a means of recovery. But the tenant can successfully evade payment altogether if he alienates his interest in the land collusively to another person. It is not always possible for the Inamdar to prove the fact of such fraudulent alienation in all cases. And even if he could do so it will be only by incurring a disproportionately large amount of expenditure and by carrying on a protracted suit in a Civil Court. Besides this, Kadim tenants in Inam villages are invested with certain rights and privileges under the Land Revenue Code, by means of which they enjoy complete security of tenure and the Inamdar has an additional claim in these cases to be placed in an equally advantageous position as regards the recovery of his dues from the land. Ever since the decision above referred to was passed by the Chief Court, the Inamdars in the State have been bringing this hardship to the notice of the Government during the annual sessions of the Representative Assembly, and after giving their most careful consideration to the matter, the Government have arrived at the conclusion that legislation should be undertaken to relieve the Inamdars from their present hardship. It is therefore proposed to enact that rent or land revenue payable by an inferior holder to a superior holder shall be a first charge on the land held by the tenant. The Council will observe that the above words are wide enough to include cases of rent of the nature of land revenue due by a tenant to his landlord even in respect of lands in Government villages. I shall explain later on why we have included cases arising in Government villages also. But, at this stage, I shall content myself by stating that the Bill has been framed so as to meet in a very large measure the representations made by the Inamdars during the last five years. If the arrears due to the superior holders are made a first charge on the land, it will not be possible for the tenants to evade payment by alienating their interest in the lands fraudulently or otherwise. The Inamdar will be enabled to follow it in whosesoever hands it may be for the time being so long as the rent due to him has not been paid up. In this connection, I may refer to another representation made by some of the Inamdars. They desired that the charge to be created in their favour should be a paramount charge. Government have allowed in the Bill a first charge on the land, and the question whether it is necessary to treat it also as a paramount charge will no doubt come up for consideration by the Select Committee. The Government would prefer not to commit themselves on this question either way at this stage.

Government are inclined to the view that a superior holder in a Government village may in respect of arrears of land revenue due to him by his tenant be regarded as practically in the same position as an Inamdar in his Inam village; and there seems to be no reason why the special facility which is now proposed to be created in favour of the Inamdars should not also be extended to the superior holders in Government villages. This question will, I have no doubt, receive the attention of the Select Committee. In both cases, the first charge to be created will not altogether be of an unqualified character. It will always be subject to the priority of all Government claims that might be enforced over the land or the holding; and, secondly, it is obviously inequitable that such a charge should be allowed priority over incumbrances created by the inferior holder with the written consent of the superior holder. This explains the proviso to be found in clause 1 of the Bill.

Clause 2 is intended to amend Section 97 of the Land Revenue Code. This section provides special facilities to superior holders to recover rent due to them by application to the Deputy Commissioner for the issue of coercive processes in the Revenue Department. But this procedure can be availed of only in respect of arrears of one year. The effect is that the superior holders are precluded from giving time to their tenants for payment even though they may be willing to do so if they wish to avoid the uncertainty of having to recover their dues through the Civil Courts. It may happen, as for example, in a year of scarcity, that it is to the interests of the tenant that the recovery of the arrears should be postponed. At the same time, it is only fair that, where the superior holder prefers to wait till the tenant is in a position to pay up his dues, he should not lose the easy remedies that would have been otherwise open to him. The Inamdars have been representing that in such cases they may be enabled to recover three years' dues through the agency of the Revenue Department. In the Bill as prepared it is proposed to amend Section 97 by providing for the recovery by this mode of the arrears of two years. But it is for the Select Committee to consider whether the period should be further extended.

I have now to explain only one more clause in the Bill, namely, clause 3. This is more or less in a way consequential to the amendment proposed to be adopted in clause 1. If a charge is created on the land in respect of arrears due, then under Article 132 of the Limitation Regulation, the period of 12 years automatically applies to a suit in a Civil Court for the recovery of such dues; but Government consider it undesirable, alike in the interests of the tenant and of the landlord, that such a long period of limitation should be provided for. Under the law, as it is at present enforced, the Inamdars have got six years for recovering their dues; and it is proposed to fix this period for all superior holders to recover arrears of revenue due to them from an inferior holder. With these remarks, I support the motion now before the Council.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR then said:—

Sir,—There is only one small point on which I wish to say a few words with the permission of the President. The law says that the Government has got a paramount charge. This is right and proper as Government accounts are regularly kept and accessible to the public. In the case of the Inamdar who does not always keep regular accounts and whose accounts are not open to inspection, it is possible that a person lending money to the inferior holder on the security of his holding may find a claim for arrears of kandayam trumped up against him. There must be some guarantee or some means whereby people may know exactly what amount is actually due. The superior and the inferior holders may collude to defraud the creditor. Some sort of security ought to be devised to protect the interests of the creditor.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA :—Sir,—So far as the provisions go, they do not, in my opinion serve, go far enough to protect the Inamdar enough. I may explain the position of the Inamdar to be this. Before the introduction of the Revenue Survey, the tenants in Inam and Government villages were in the same boat so far as dry lands were concerned, as there was no right of alienation conceded by the State. There was of course the occupancy right, as they call it. On payment of rent either in kind or in money, the property could be handed over from father to son. The point was clear only so far as wet and garden lands were concerned where the tenant had spent large sums of money in sinking wells or improving property at his own cost. The right of alienation was conceded by the State in favour of tenants with the introduction of the Revenue Survey, which was more of a field settlement. Now on payment of Government revenue during a period of 30 years, the tenant could alienate his property. With regard to Inam villages to which settlement has been introduced they are on the same footing as Government villages. In those villages in which survey and settlement has not been introduced they have been following the ancient custom that prevailed in the State, i.e., tenants occupy lands, cultivate them and pay the rent either in kind or in money or partly in kind and partly in money to the Inamdar. The Inamdar has never conceded the right of alienation to the tenant. He will never permit property to be sold, or mortgaged. As it is, the proposed measure puts the Inamdar in a position to recover the arrears of rent due to him for a period of six years, and enacts that he has a charge on the property.

As regards the doubts expressed by my friend Mr. M. C. Rangiengar that the Inamdars do not keep accounts, and that the Inamdar and tenant may collude together in defrauding the creditor, I do not suppose any outsider lends money to a tenant in an Inam village. This disreputable condition as contrasted with the flourishing condition they were formerly in, is due to the fact that the right of alienation has not been conceded to the tenant. The Inamdar is in the position of Government and for every petty thing the raiyat has to look to him. He will go away to the Government village, if his needs are not satisfied. This is the position of the Inamdar. Any small relief which the Government will be pleased to give to the Inamdar will be welcome. The misapprehension which my friend brings forward is not likely to exist in many cases excepting the few in which the sharers have tenants with such concessions.

The President then said that the matter was for consideration by the Select Committee.

The motion was then carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill further to amend the Mysore Land Revenue Code be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Messrs. Rajamantrapravina C. Srinivasiengar, Rajakaryapravina A. Rangaswami Iyengar, Rao Bahadur, K. P. Puttanna Chetty, A. Ramanna, D. Venkataramaiya, D. Devaraj Urs and himself.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

Bill to further amend the Mysore Court Fees Regulation.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill to further amend the Mysore Court Fees Regulation, 1900, be read in Council, said :—

Sir,—At present when suits are instituted for the recovery of land situated in Government villages, the court fee is calculated by taking the value of the property to be five times the assessment due to Government when the lands are surveyed and settled. But in regard to lands situate in Inam villages, the rule is that fifteen times the value of the net profits gives the value of the land for the purpose of computing court fees. It has been represented that this works as a hardship in respect of lands situated in alienated villages and that the same rule should, as far as possible, be applied to both Government and Inam villages. This representation has been taken into consideration by Government and it is considered that some relief may be given in respect of lands situated in Inam villages. I now beg to move that the Bill to further amend the Mysore Court Fees Regulation be read in Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA:—Sir,—Government affords relief to the suitor in the case of lands where survey and settlement have been made. There are many villages in which settlement has not been introduced and relief may be given to the suitor in respect of lands situated in such villages also.

MR. M. C. RANGIENAR, who was of the same opinion as his predecessor, said:—

Sir,—For his own purposes the Inamdar will not have the survey and settlement introduced. The tenants in villages where settlement has not been introduced should have some concession shown to them after the manner in which it is proposed to be shown to tenants holding land in settled villages. Fifteen times the net profits will simply be a hardship. In a large majority of cases the Inamdar has got no land of his own. So it is in the interests of the raiyats who have to sell lands or recover lands that the concession must be shown.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA:—Sir,—The difficulty in the way of adopting the suggestion is that in unsettled villages Inamdars have not got proper accounts There is no proper paimayishi, and in many places it is not certain whether raiyats have occupancy rights or not. All these things and the uncertainty of attaching any value to the accounts which are often very meagre and inaccurate have induced Government to restrict the measure only to villages in which survey and settlement has been introduced. There is another consideration which may show that after all there is nothing very unreasonable in the rules at present in force. Fifteen times the net profits for purposes of computing court fees is not likely to be considered extravagantly high and in fact it seems to me that the rule of five times the assessment is a great deal too advantageous to suitors. Especially it does not represent the value of wet or garden lands at all. I know of lands an acre of which is worth from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000; and the utmost that five times the assessment would give is Rs. 80. That is extravagantly favourable to the owners of lands. This rule, which is perhaps intended to encourage the cultivation of land by tenants in Government villages, is not extended to persons holding land in alienated villages as the terms and tenure on which they hold lands are so uncertain. I think these considerations will explain why Government cannot go further and extend the protection to villages that have not been surveyed and settled.

The motion was then adopted.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council, said that he had only to add that the fact that the relief is not given in respect of other lands need not prevent the Council from passing the Bill which gives some concession at once.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill be considered and adopted by the Council. MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA next moved that the Bill be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. The motion was adopted.

Bill to provide for the Prevention of Smoking by Juveniles in Mysore.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the Prevention of Smoking by Juveniles and the Bill as amended by them be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council. He referred to the report of the Select Committee on the Bill and explained the changes recommended by that body.

The motion was seconded by MR. SYED AMIR HASSAN and was passed.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the word "from" occurring at the end of sub-clause (3) of clause 1 of the Bill be omitted and the words "in such areas and from such date as may be notified by the Government in the Official Gazette in this behalf" be inserted instead. In doing so he said that Government did not want to apply the Bill to places where there was no need. For instance there are many villages where the evil sought to be combated does not exist.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in presenting the next motion for the consideration of the Council, said :—

Sir,—The word "apparently" occurring in the first line of clause 3 of the Bill is not quite clear. The courts may construe it properly, viz., to mean "by appearance." But, to make the matter quite clear and certain, I beg to propose that the words "actually and by appearance" be substituted. We do not want a boy to be apprehended unless he is under sixteen years of age both actually and by appearance. The alteration is intended to further safeguard the sellers of tobacco who would otherwise be liable to be punished if they sold tobacco to a youth actually above sixteen years though he may appear to be less than that age.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA next moved that the word "conviction" be substituted for the word "offence" occurring in two places in the sixth line of clause 3 of the Bill.

The motion was adopted.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill as amended be passed. The motion was seconded by MR. SYED AMIR HASSAN and carried.

Bill to amend the Indian Evidence Act as in force in Mysore.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving the next proposition, said :—

Sir,—The necessity for the Bill to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, as in force in Mysore has already been sufficiently explained by me when I put the Bill before the Council. It was then referred to a Select Committee and they have submitted a report, stating that the Bill requires no alterations and that it may be passed in the form in which it was introduced. I now move that the report and the Bill be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Bill be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council.

MR. C. S. DORASWAMI IYER seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY,
President.

Simla, the 6th September 1911.

SIR,

I AM directed to invite your attention to the accompanying copy of the Home Department Notification No. 3580, dated the 6th September 1911, which contains a revise of the Dress Regulations for Civil Officers other than those serving in the Political Departments of the Government of India and of the Government of Bombay, and supersedes all previous orders on the subject. You will observe that the orders now issued are for the most part a reproduction on a slightly different arrangement of those previously in force, namely, the orders published with the Home Department Notification No. 1970, dated the 15th April 1909, as modified by the subsequent notifications enumerated in the margin. The present orders, however, contain a few modifications of substance of previous orders, and I am to explain, in the first place, what these are.

No. 2890, dated the 4th August 1909.
No. 171, dated the 27th January 1911.
No. 3079, dated the 27th July 1911.

2. A.—Rules regarding the use of uniform.—You will observe that Rule IV has been altered. The change made in it gives effect to a recent decision of the Governor-General in Council that the upkeep and wearing of military uniform by military officers who are in permanent civil employ shall be optional. I am to explain that this concession applies only to military officers in permanent civil employ who hold civil appointments which do not carry the right to wear civil uniform: such officers if holding an appointment to which the right of wearing civil uniform is attached must wear the uniform prescribed for their appointment.

B.—The omission of the second portion of Rule VIII as published with the Home Department Notification No. 1970, dated the 15th April 1909, and the rearrangement of the schedule with the "Description of civil uniform" attached to it, give effect to a decision of the Governor-General in Council, to which I am to invite your particular attention, namely, that in future all officers who are entitled to wear uniform shall wear, with Full Dress, knee-breeches, hose and shoes. Hitherto this privilege has been confined to a few high officers, namely, Governors, Lieutenant-Governors and Ordinary Members of the Executive Councils of the Governor-General and of the Governors of Madras and Bombay: all other officers having hitherto worn as Full Dress the Levée Dress of their class. In future all officers will wear breeches and hose with Full Dress except when specific orders are issued for "Full Dress with trousers," but it will not be necessary for officers, who do not already possess them, to provide themselves with breeches and hose, specially for the Delhi and Calcutta ceremonies, unless they are likely to attend ceremonies at which they must be worn, such as the Investiture of the Royal Court.

C.—Four additions have recently been made to the list of officers entitled to wear uniform, namely, the members of the recently constituted Executive Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Settlement Commissioner in the Central Provinces and the Chief Conservators of Forests in Burma and the Central Provinces. These officers are now included in the revised schedule.

D.—The slight distinctions (number of buttons on coat-cuff and width of lace on trousers) which previously existed between the different classes of undress uniform have now been abolished, and all officers will now wear the same undress uniform.

3. Except the above changes, the present notification involves no change of substance in the previous Rules, Schedule, or "Description of civil uniform," which has not already been notified separately.

4. The Governor-General in Council directs that civil officers present on duty at the Delhi Durbar, and attending ceremonies connected with it for which uniform is prescribed, who are not ordinarily entitled to wear uniform, shall wear uniform of the 5th class as prescribed in the notification. Such officers will enjoy the privilege of wearing the uniform thereafter until they are appointed to an office which carries with it the right to wear uniform of a higher class. Civil officers, who are ordinarily entitled to wear uniform and who are present at Delhi, but not on duty, will be required to wear uniform on all occasions when uniform is worn. Civil officers, not ordinarily entitled to wear uniform, who will be present on duty at Delhi, but who will not be required to attend any of the ceremonies, need not, unless they wish to do so, provide themselves with this uniform.

5. With reference to the orders in the preceding paragraph, I am to explain that the only officers who will have occasion to wear undress uniform in connexion with the Delhi ceremonials, will be the officers deputed by each local Government or Administration to be its Attaché with the Foreign Department, and the Deputy Commissioner and Assistant Commissioner of Delhi. The two last-named officers would ordinarily wear this uniform when meeting Heads of local Governments and Administrations on arrival at Delhi and the Attachés of local Governments and Administrations would wear it when meeting certain Chiefs. No other officers need provide themselves with this uniform for use at Delhi, and even the above-named officers may be allowed to wear morning dress on such occasions, if they do not already possess undress uniform.

6. I am to invite your particular attention to the footnotes to the description of Full and Levée dress and Undress uniform and to the orders conveyed in the Home Department endorsement No. 3083-91, dated the 27th July 1911, the effect of which is that helmets, and not cocked-hats, must be worn with Full Dress or Levee Dress at all ceremonies in the day time, and that only helmets of the pattern prescribed in the accompanying notification may be worn.

7. In conclusion I am to observe that it is desirable at all times that scrupulous correctness should be observed by officers as to the details of their uniform, and that this is particularly necessary on the occasion of Their Majesties' visit. In this connexion I am to invite your attention to the instructions communicated in November 1905 by the Foreign Department, a copy of which, modified up to date, is, for facility of reference, appended to this letter. Especial attention is invited to the fact brought out in paragraph 2 of this memorandum, that buttons bearing the Royal Arms with Supporters may not be worn by any officer who is not a member of the Political Department of the Government of India except Governors, Lieutenant-Governors and Ordinary Members of the Governor-General's Executive Council.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
A. EARLE,
Secretary to the Government of India.

No. G. 2852—G. M. 53-10-23, dated 15*th November* 1911.

It has come to the knowledge of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja that an organized system of recruitment of coolies in Mysore for labour in foreign countries is prevailing in some parts of the State, and they have reason to believe that several persons, including young and inexperienced persons, are being induced to emigrate by the recruiters under various pretences and false representations as regards the condition of life, labour and wages in such foreign places. The Government consider that these facts should be generally known throughout the State, and the public are hereby warned of the risks they run in acting on the inducements offered by the recruiters in question, without making careful inquiries for themselves.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 231—L. C., dated 6th December 1910.

Under Rule 40 of the Rules for the conduct of business of the Mysore Legislative Council, the reports of the Select Committees on the marginally noted Bills are published for general information.

(1) Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906 in certain respects.
(2) Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation, 1902.
(3) Bill for the regulation and control of Hackney Carriages in Mysore.

By Order,

S. HIRIYANNAIYA,

Secretary, Mysore Legislative Council.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation.

We have carefully considered the provisions of this Bill and are of opinion that very few amendments are necessary. We bestowed our careful attention on the question whether the system of licensing articles liable to octroi (principally tobacco and betel leaves) which is reported to have been in vogue within the limits of Bangalore City Municipality and the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore, during the last nearly forty years without giving rise to any complaint of hardship or inconvenience, should be continued. We had the advantage of hearing the Vice-President of the City Municipality in regard to the necessity of continuing this system. In view of the facilities that now exist for smuggling tobacco into the City with the aid of persons who store large quantities of this article in villages immediately outside Municipal limits we are satisfied that, if smuggling is at all to be effectively prevented, the provisions contained in clauses 1 and 3 of the Bill are necessary. We, therefore, recommend that the said clauses (with the slight alterations to be explained below) be retained.

Clause 2 of the Bill provides for the licensing of vehicles or animals plying for hire and prescribes the rates of hire for such vehicles and animals and also for the services of persons hired to carry loads. We consider it unnecessary to prescribe any regulations in respect of animals or persons hired to carry loads as no such system of hiring prevails at present. But it is desirable that vehicles for hire, whether carrying passengers or goods, should be brought under some sort of control. But these matters, we think, can be better provided for in the Hackney Carriage Bill, which is also now before the Legislative Council. We understand that it is the intention of the Committee appointed to consider that Bill to widen its scope and incorporate into it the provisions of this Bill relating to vehicular traffic. It is in our opinion undesirable that the provisions of the Municipal Regulation and those of the Hackney Carriage Bill should overlap each other. We, therefore, recommend that clause 2 of the Bill be omitted.

A slight change is needed in the second proviso to clause 3 (2). This exemption as it stands applies to the case of articles not exceeding Rs. 200 in value purchased by any person for his own use or for that of any member of his family; but, we think, it should also for the same reason apply in the case of articles obtained by a person otherwise than through purchase; as, for example, in respect of the produce of a man's own garden. We have therefore substituted the word "kept" for "purchased."

The words "consequent on the owner dying or quitting the station" in the same proviso limits unduly, in our opinion, the application of this exemption. A man may have to sell articles of consumption for other causes than those mentioned here. We have therefore substituted the words "by such person when not required for such use" for the words "by auction, consequent on the owner dying or quitting the station." With these few changes we recommend that the Bill be passed.

We consider it unnecessary that the Bill should be republished.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation, 1902.

We, the members of the above Committee, have the honor to submit the following report to the Council.

We have carefully considered the provisions of the above Bill and are of opinion that it may be passed with the few changes described below.

We recognise that several of the provisions of the Bill will not be utilised by many District Boards in the State and that some of them will have only a very restricted local application. Nevertheless, we consider it desirable that such comprehensive provisions should find a place in the Local Boards Regulation so as to enable a District Board to take action under such of the provisions as may be deemed necessary with reference to its particular needs without the necessity of having recourse to fresh legislation. It may be stated that some of these provisions are also contained in the Municipal Regulation, which applies to all the Municipalities in the State and are also to be found in the Local Boards Acts of British India.

Clause 2.

We think that the words "including tolls and fees leviable under Section 31A (1) (g)," which are proposed to be inserted at the end of clause 5 of Section 20 of the Regulation, should form a separate clause, and we have accordingly substituted for the words "(i) at the end of clause 5" occurring here, the words "(i) after clause 5, as clause 5 A."

Clause 3.

31 A (1) (b).—As a substantive provision requiring licenses to be taken in respect of the matters referred to in this sub-clause seems to be necessary, we propose the insertion of the words "requiring licenses to be taken and" at the beginning of sub-clause 1 (b) of Section 31 A.

Sub-clause (h) of clause 1 of Section 31 A.

This general provision regarding power to frame bye-laws for carrying out all the purposes of the Regulation seems to be unnecessary and may be omitted.

To make the meaning clearer we have recast the paragraph on 'infringement' as follows:—

Infringement.—"Any person infringing any bye-laws made under this Regulation shall be punished with fine not exceeding fifty rupees for each offence, and in case of a continuing offence, with a further fine not exceeding ten rupees for each day after written notice of the offence by the District Board."

As very few changes have been made by us in the Bill, we consider it unnecessary to republish the Bill.

I am sorry that I cannot bring myself to agree to the proposed amendments. The existence of such provisions in the Municipal Regulation does not necessarily, in my opinion, justify their introduction into the Local Boards Regulation. If carefully analysed, these provisions affect trades and professions whether of an innocent or offensive character. The scope of the Municipal Regulation is confined to a small area in towns whereas the control under a District Board extends to the area of a district. Even in large cities where local self-Government has existed for a sufficiently long time, it is found impracticable to bring all trades and professions under coercive legislation by a licensing system. The Local Boards Regulation was only passed in the year 1902, although some attempt at drafting was commenced so far back as 1879. If powers contemplated by this amendment Bill should be conferred on the District Boards, they may be tempted to apply the provisions without knowing their effects upon trade. There are instances in which flourishing small mofussil towns have been seriously affected by the introduction of Octroi duties unwittingly by their Municipal Councils following the example of the City of Bangalore. The condition of the people is now in a state of transition. Every trade and profession is feeling keenly the effects of competition. The people hitherto engaged in their respective trades and professions from the time of their ancestors are going to the wall with the introduction of labour-saving machinery. Unless the rebuilding of society with up-to-date education has been completed, it is a difficult attempt to bring the existing manufacturers and traders in the mofussil under the stringent licensing system. The provisions under consideration give ample powers for abuse by the ill-paid agency which the Local Boards can afford to employ. It is the sad experience of every Board to find itself quite unable to maintain the several institutions under its control with the funds at its disposal. The appeals from these Boards for State aid demonstrate that their spending departments have been growing year after year to an abnormal extent. The new ideas killed the old and well-established charitable notions that existed in the village community. The Indian traditional methods of charity which every village community practised in the establishment and maintenance of village communal institutions have been disappearing. I am therefore of opinion that the District Boards will have first to be so remodelled as to bring in a popular element which would command that amount of influence and prestige which would enable the Boards to bring private charity to assist them in a large measure in the establishment and upkeep of village communal institutions. After sufficient trial is given to revive and foster such feelings among the village communities, we will have time to consider whether the stringent provisions now contemplated will be asked for by the Boards themselves for introduction. At present, I am constrained to say that no such popular demand for legislation is forthcoming.

6th December 1910. D. VENKATARAMAIYA.

[N.B.—MR. M. NARAIN RAO, who was also a member of the Committee, was absent owing to indisposition.]

Report of the Select Committee on the Bill for the regulation and control of Hackney Carriages in Mysore.

We, the members of the Select Committee appointed for the consideration of the above Bill, have the honor to submit the following report to the Council.

It has been brought to our notice that in Bombay a single enactment has been passed to provide for the regulation of vehicles whether intended to carry passengers or goods. Besides the present Bill, there is now before the Legislative Council the Municipal Regulation Amendment Bill, clause 2 of which relates to the regulation of vehicles carrying passengers or goods for hire. As there is no object to be gained in having the same provisions in two different enactments, and as these provisions can well be fitted into the framework of the present Bill, we have changed the title of the Bill into "A Bill for the regulation and control of Public Conveyances in Mysore" and have made the necessary alterations in the body of the Bill also.

The definition of the word "Public Conveyance" as proposed by us includes all vehicles with two or more wheels plying for hire, whether drawn by animals or men, and whether carrying passengers or goods. It will be noticed that rickshaws which are coming into vogue in the larger cities and laden carts drawn by men will fall within this definition.

The other changes made by us are of a purely consequential or verbal character and require no explanatory remarks. Owing to the very few alterations made in the Bill, we consider it unnecessary to republish it. We recommend that the Bill as now amended by us be approved by the Council.

S. HIRIYANNAIYA, ESQ., M.A., B.L. (Secretary).

DEWAN.—We have a very heavy agenda paper this time and so, in the case of many Bills, it has been proposed to suspend the ordinary rules of business so as to permit of their being taken into consideration by the Council. The object of this is not to hurry on the Bills through the Council. But we are only paying a tribute to the thoroughness and the ability with which the Select Committees have reported on the Bills. There is now very little difference of opinion among the members; but if there is any point on which further discussion is necessary, it shall certainly be allowed; otherwise, the desire is that no time should be lost on mere adjournments.

The Secretary then reported to the Council that the Mysore Census Bill and the Mysore Treasure Trove Bill received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja on the 24th August 1910 and the 6th September 1910, respectively; and that a petition on the Mysore Limitation Bill had been received from one Venkataramaiya of T.-Narsipur, praying that the period of limitation fixed for possession of hereditary offices (like Shanbhogi and Pateli) be extended to 60 years or at least to 30 years.

A Bill to provide for the regulation of the possession and sale of all poisons in certain local areas and the importation, possession and sale of white arsenic generally.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY.—Sir,—The Council is aware that at the meeting of the Council held on the 13th of January 1910, the Poisons Bill was considered by this Council and the resolution that was then arrived at was that it be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. I have now the honor to propose that the Bill to provide for the regulation of the possession and sale of all poisons in certain local areas and the importation, possession and sale of white arsenic generally be passed.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR, in seconding the motion, said:—

Sir,—In and about Bangalore a Regulation of this kind is absolutely necessary. The Regulation merely seeks to place under some check the possession for sale and sale of certain poisons in general and of white arsenic in particular. The restrictions are imposed entirely in the interests of public safety and well-being. I need not say much, therefore, to commend such a Bill to the Council. I beg to second the motion.

The motion was put and agreed to.

A Bill to recognize the representative character of the Administrator-General of Madras.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—Sir,—This Bill to recognise the representative character of the Administrator-General of Madras has passed through all the stages of introduction, reference to and consideration by a Select Committee and consideration by this Council, and only awaits the final stage of being passed. I now move that the Bill be passed.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

The Tank Panchayet Bill.

In moving that the words "1st day of January 1911" be inserted at the end of sub-clause (3) of clause 1 of the above Bill, Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty remarked that it was intended to fix an early date for the operation of the Bill as there was no object in postponing it to a more distant date.

MR. A. RAMANNA.—Sir,—The sooner the Bill is passed the better it would be. The fixing of the 1st of January 1911 as the date of operation of the Bill is useful in this way,—that there will be six months before the cultivation season begins. I therefore beg to second the motion.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY then moved that the Tank Panchayet Bill as adopted by the Council be passed and in doing so, said:—

Sir,—I beg to move that the Tank Panchayet Bill be finally passed by the Council. In making this request I crave permission to say a few words about the important step we are taking in attempting to revive village autonomy in Mysore with reference to one of its most important and pressing requirements. We receive from all sides requests for the formation of rural bodies to manage purely rural affairs, subject, of course, to proper control. For example, one of the questions mooted year after year at the annual gatherings of the Representative Assembly refers to the institution of Village Courts. More recently there is evidence of a desire that village schools should also be brought under some kind of local control. It may be said without fear of contradiction that to the rural public as well as to the Government the proper maintenance of the village tanks upon which the prosperity of our agricultural population so largely depends is a matter of vital concern. There is, therefore, considerable justification for starting the new experiment on the most popular lines and for trying to stimulate and utilise the public spirit of the village in a matter so closely affecting their welfare. It is with this object that this important Bill was framed and placed before this Council. In addition to the care and forethought bestowed on the Bill when it was framed, it has had the advantage of being referred to and considered by an exceptionally strong Select Committee whose recommendations, this Council has, with some slight alterations and additions, adopted at the last meeting. I need not therefore say much now on the different provisions in the Bill. Permit me, however, to make one remark in view of what the Royal Commission on Decentralisation in India have stated in their report, which was issued after the introduction of this Bill. That eminent body have discussed in para 3 of Volume I of their report the question of village organisation; and after carefully considering the large mass of evidence that was placed before them, they have recommended the constitution of Village Panchayets by gradual and tentative methods, that is to say, to quote the words of the report "by "establishing them in villages in which circumstances are most favorable by "reason of homogeneity, natural intelligence and freedom from internal feuds and "conferring on them only certain limited powers at the commencement. The "powers might be increased gradually as results warrant; and with success in one "village, it will become easier to apply the system in other villages." It will be seen that we have adopted in our Bill the substance of the above recommendation. Our desire is not to start Panchayets in every village but to institute them in select places only after satisfying ourselves that the conditions outlined above are fully satisfied. Nay, we have gone further by way of precaution and laid it down that before a Panchayet can be called into existence, the consent of a majority of the inhabitants and particularly of the land-owning classes shall be secured. Among the powers to be delegated to Panchayets the Commission recommend that they should have Civil and Criminal jurisdiction in petty cases, the power of administering village sanitation and of the construction and repair of local minor works, such as, wells and drinking water tanks. You will thus see that the power with which we propose to invest our Panchayets is not altogether without high authority, and I may add that nearly all the objections that can be urged against a measure of this kind have been discussed and ably answered by the Decentralization Commission in their report. We have not only taken all the precautions which prudence and forethought would dictate, but we have gone a little further and held out inducements to the people to make the scheme a success. I allude to the provisions regarding the creation of a special Tank Fund to which sums are credited which would otherwise go to the Government, and particularly to the remission of half the wet assessment in cases where the people of the village co-operate to such an extent as to restrict, in consideration of larger interests, the area of wet cultivation with reference to the available water in the tank. I have every hope that these provisions will contribute materially to the success of the scheme and perhaps also to the solution of some other important questions connected with our land revenue policy. In conclusion, I would invite the attention of this Council to the fact that, though the question of the resuscitation of communal life in villages has been agitated all over India, ours is, as far as I know, the first attempt in the direction of entrusting the Panchayets with such important powers as the construction, repair and maintenance of tanks, and if I may be permitted to do so,

I would take this opportunity of congratulating the Council on this important event so full of promise for the future. I trust that Hon'ble members will heartily accord their vote for the proposition which I have now the honor to move.

In seconding the above motion, MR. A. RAMANNA said.—Sir,—Communal institutions are not new to India. They have been in existence for a long time though latterly they have declined. There is now an attempt in this Bill to give powers to the community and also to teach them the principles of self-reliance and self-sacrifice so essential for civilised and progressive government. The rural public must be able to manage their own affairs, at least with reference to sanitation, wells, tanks, etc. This Bill has got all that is needed to revive that old system. It creates an interest for the raiyat in the tank and, as any improvement effected in it is for his own benefit, everything that lies in the power of the villagers concerned will be done to maintain and improve it. That tanks have been very much neglected for a long time past, cannot be disputed. The Government are paying special attention to them now. I have great pleasure in seconding the motion.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR, in supporting the motion said,—Sir,—I beg to congratulate the Council on the success which has attended the Bill. It is a very important measure both on account of its intrinsic utility and its educative value in reviving and promoting the communal spirit, the disappearance of which we all greatly deplore. It is very gratifying to see that Government have taken steps to improve the condition of the people and have extended their mental horizon. The good intentions of Government are nowhere more apparent than in the liberality with which they come forward to make a substantial remission in favor of the raiyat in the case provided for in the Bill, and this in spite of the vehement and eloquent opposition of the Survey Superintendent, MR. DESHMUK SHAMA RAO.

Sir, the Government is most anxious that an opportunity should be given to the people to revive their communal system. The people are expected to co-operate heartily with the Government by eschewing their selfishness and working harmoniously for the common weal. Government may be liberal enough to offer substantial concessions to the people and the people may be willing to enjoy the concessions so offered. But a great deal rests with the Government officers who are on the spot. They have to guide, advise and encourage the people, and when the people are split into factions, the Government officers are expected to throw oil on the troubled waters. If the people and the Government officers on the spot co-operate and make the experiment a success, we may hope for greater and more important measures to be passed by Government securing for the people autonomy in all the material interests which concern village life.

The motion was then put to the Council and carried.

A Bill to provide for the prevention of smoking by juveniles.

In moving for leave being granted to introduce the above Bill, MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA said,—Sir,—You must have observed of late that the smoking of cheap cigars and cigarettes has been spreading among boys, especially in large places like this City. Whatever may be its effect on grown-up men it is admitted by everyone that it is a most pernicious habit for young persons. It may be objected to a measure of this kind that it acts as an unnecessary restraint on individual liberty, and gives undue powers to the Police to interfere with the concerns of private people. That it has these drawbacks to some extent cannot be denied. But it is now coming to be more and more recognised that interference with private liberty to do what is wrong in itself or harmful to the welfare of society is quite justified, and all legislation in the most advanced countries which is inspired by socialistic ideas is of this sort. Especially are such restrictive measures commended when they are meant to safeguard the moral or physical welfare of juveniles; and there are already certain restrictive provisions of this nature in force in factory laws and Excise rules.

We have borrowed the provisions of this Bill from an ordinance in force in the colony of Ceylon. A representation requesting Government to make a provision of law of this kind was first made during the sittings of the Dasara Representative Assembly of 1907.

The provisions of the Bill are intended to protect juveniles. It provides that on the first occasion on which a boy under 16 years of age is found smoking the matter shall be reported to the parent or guardian or the schoolmaster under whom the boy studies. The object of reporting thus is that the boy shall not be liable to punishment for the first offence, but that the parent or guardian or schoolmaster may take adequate steps to correct him. If three months afterwards, he is again found smoking in a public place, the Police have power to take him to a Magistrate and as the punishment to be then awarded must be such that it should not attach any stigma which will affect his career in after-life, the Bill provides that it shall be a small fine of a rupee or that the boy shall be subject to whipping in the way of school discipline, which should be carried out in a private place in the presence of a Magistrate. These are the few and simple provisions of the Bill and I hope that they will commend themselves to the honourable members of this Council. I move that leave be granted to introduce this Bill.

MR. SYED AMIR HASSAN, in seconding the motion, said that such a Bill is very necessary.

MR. A. RAMANNA supported the motion. The motion was put to the Council and carried.

A Bill to amend the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA moved that the Bill to amend the Government Savings Banks Act, 1873, as applied to Mysore be read in Council.

MR. A. RAMANNA seconded the motion.

The motion was put to the Council and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, in moving that the Bill to amend the Government Savings Banks Act be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council, observed—

Sir,—The measure is a very simple one, and it is not likely that it will be thought to need any more consideration or that there will be any objection to it being taken to its further stages. I, therefore, beg to move that Rule 45 and the other rules of business be suspended in this case and that the Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that it be taken into consideration by the Council to-day.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—In making my remarks I do not want to minimise the advantages to be derived from the measure which is now proposed to be adopted. I think that, if some time be given and the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, it would be possible to make some slight alterations in the Savings Banks Act so as to extend its usefulness. It has been the practice, of late, in banks and other institutions to allow what they call joint deposits. Power is given to the depositors to act jointly and they have also the right of survivorship. If such a provision is introduced into this Act, it will save a great deal of trouble. In that case nomination may be dispensed with. Very often a man may not be able to think of a proper nominee. And even if a person is appointed, some accident may happen to him in which case the provision of law would be inoperative. Of course, my suggestion is also open to the same objection; but, on the whole, I think the system of joint deposits is more advantageous than that of nomination. Just at present I am not able to say whether it can be effected by changes in the rules and whether, even if Government are prepared to make the changes, the present provisions of the Act will be sufficient to legalise such a measure. There is no urgency about the matter. I think it is better the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, so that the members may have time to consider the proposal.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR was also of opinion that the system of joint accounts with survivorship might be considered.

MR. D. SHAMA RAO, in supporting the original motion, said,—Sir,—In cases in which purdanishin ladies are the nominees, they cannot appear personally. But the Bill as it is now drafted will suit the convenience of many poor people. Generally, there is the contingency of some untoward event happening to the nominee, but we cannot provide for all contingencies. Under the Life Insurance Rules a person has, got the power to change nominations made by him. In the same way, a person may cancel the nomination he once made. But if the system of joint deposits is introduced, one of the depositors cannot cancel a previous nomination unless the other depositor agrees. So he will lose the advantage he now has under the present provision regarding nomination. On these grounds, I think that the present provision is better than allowing the system of joint deposits. I propose that the Bill may stand as it is.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, replying said,—Sir,—If we are so minded, we may embody the suggestions of Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar in a separate measure. I am not particular in opposing the suggestion that the matter be referred to a Select Committee if that is the general sense of the meeting. I have no objection; but as the proposal of Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar has nothing to do with the present Bill, there will be no harm in taking the course suggested by the original motion before this Council.

DEWAN.—It cannot be said that there is no urgency about this measure. There have been cases in the past and I believe there are cases pending now as to the question of succession. I doubt very much whether the Account Department will agree to the proposal about joint investments. However, to take action on these lines may require the sanction of the Government of India, as the Savings Banks Act was introduced into Mysore in the pre-Rendition days. It is always an advantage to go step by step. So I would propose that we may go on with this Bill now. If any amendment is proposed we shall consider it.

The motion was then put to the vote and carried.

The Bill was then considered and adopted by the Council.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA'S next motion to take up and pass the Bill at a subsequent meeting was seconded by Mr. S. Narayana Rao and carried by the Council.

A Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, 1906, in certain respects.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY, in moving that the Bill to amend the Mysore Municipal Regulation, in certain respects, be read in Council, said,—Sir,—At the meeting of the Council held on the 15th August 1910, I sought for leave to introduce the Bill; and, after hearing my statement of the case, the Council was pleased to give leave for the introduction of the Bill. My present motion is that it be read in Council. It is not necessary for me to go over the same ground again. The speech I made at that meeting is contained in the Supplement to the Mysore Gazette dated the 18th August 1910. I then referred to the several clauses and explained the necessity for their introduction in the Mysore Municipal Regulation. Clause 3 of the Bill is framed with a view to empower the Municipal Council to seize, through a duly authorised officer, articles which are suspected to have been smuggled. The present Regulation is very defective in this respect—in that it does not require a license to be taken out for the sale of such articles. Nor does it empower a Municipal officer to search for and seize those articles. It is to remedy these and such other defects that the amendment has been proposed by Government. It is also proposed to give power to the Municipality to regulate the traffic in respect of hackney carriages and carts carrying passengers and goods for hire. At present there are no rules in this Regulation providing for all this. Another small matter is that it is proposed to raise the tax which is to be levied upon motor cars and motor bicycles. I beg, therefore, to move that the Bill be read in Council.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—In this connection I would simply confine my observations to the first clause of the Bill. That is with reference to the modifications which are proposed in Section 48, sub-section (1), clause (k). This addition is proposed on the ground that there has been a substantial omission when the Municipal Regulation was passed. From the general principles and the policy of the Act, I am led to infer that this is not an oversight. The Act, as it stands, seems to provide for the taxing of trade generally without imposing any restrictions as to the liberty of persons to take up any particular trade. Such restrictions interfere with the freedom of choice of the individual. The object of the Regulation is principally to raise the revenue for certain purposes and that is raised in three ways—by the land-tax, the house-tax and the profession or trade tax. The octroi is a fourth source of revenue. It is supposed to be collected on articles before they enter the municipal limits of a town. They are not to be subjected to any tax after they come in; because, that will be not only difficult to carry out in practice but it will lead to an amount of prying into people's affairs. I understand that the octroi is levied on very petty items such as betel leaves, cocoanuts, both dry and green, tobacco and other articles. Those who deal in these articles are very petty traders and they pay a very small tax. The Bill requires them to take out licenses. It would be highly inconvenient to the individuals concerned to do so. They will be prevented from eking out their livelihood by resorting to petty trades. In fact, the object of this provision is, if I may so put it, to make up for the deficiency of the executive by imposing serious disabilities on traders. I think that such a measure requires careful consideration by a Select Committee and it is also desirable that the honourable members should have time to look into the provisions. I would therefore recommend that some time be given for the examination of the Bill.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA who followed was of the same opinion as his predecessor and said—

Sir,—I heartily second the observations made by my learned friend. This requires a good deal of consideration. It should be well threshed out by a Select Committee and viewed in different aspects. In the city of Bangalore, where the Municipal Regulation has been in force from 1871, we find that taxes are levied, some under the Regulation, others under octroi rules, yet others under mohatarfa rules. There are big shops which sell only large quantities of dutiable articles and there are also retail shops. But this Bill requires that licenses should be taken out by keepers of both these shops. Shop-keepers will have then to pay the shop tax under the mohatarfa rules and, in addition, will have to take out a license under the rules now to be introduced. Most of our petty shop-keepers sell cocoanuts, dry and green, gram and other things. This is one class. There is another class who sell piece goods and who also come under octroi rules. And besides these articles, there are others which are now being brought under octroi rules; so that every trader in the State will come under the rules, if the Bill is introduced in the form proposed. If the Bill is referred to a Select Committee, it will be carefully threshed out.

In view of the above observations, the motion on the agenda that the Bill be not referred to a Select Committee was withdrawn by the mover; and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Messrs. (1) Rajakaryapravina A. Rangaswami Iyengar,
(2) H. V. Nanjundayya,
(3) Rajamantrapravina C. Srinivasiengar,
(4) D. Venkataramaiya,
(5) S. Narayana Rao,
(6) Devaraj Urs and
(7) K. P. Puttanna Chetty (mover).

The next two motions were accordingly allowed to be withdrawn.

A Bill for the Regulation and control of Hackney Carriages in Mysore.

In moving that the above Bill be read in Council, MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY said,—Sir,—the proposition which I am now called upon to move refers to the introduction of a Bill for the regulation and control of Hackney Carriages in Mysore. There is at present no law on this matter applicable to the whole State. As pointed out in the statement of objects and reasons, the Bangalore City Hackney Carriage Regulation of 1887 applies only to that city. The springing up of a large town in the Kolar Gold Fields area with considerable vehicular traffic within its limits has rendered it necessary that that traffic should be subjected to some control. Representations asking for suitable action have been received from the Kolar Gold Fields Sanitary Board from time to time. The Government of Mysore have been unable to move in the matter for want of necessary legal provision. The Mysore Mines Regulation of 1906 authorises the Government to make Regulations in certain matters such as the sanitation of the area, but the control of traffic does not fall within its scope. On a careful consideration of the matter, Government have come to the conclusion that the enactment of a law based on the existing Hackney Carriage Regulation of Bangalore, but applicable to the whole State, is the best course to adopt. The Bill, which I have now the honor to introduce, is the outcome of the decision and it is unnecessary for me to say more about it than that it applies ordinarily only to Municipal areas and that it authorises Municipal Councils to frame rules for the regulation and control of vehicular traffic. Such rules have however to be confirmed by the Government of Mysore before they can have the force of law.

Clause 5 of the Bill empowers Government to make rules even for areas outside Municipalities should they consider such a course desirable or necessary. As members of this Council are aware, regular jatka services have been established between some of the railway stations and towns in the State, e.g., between Bowringpet and Kolar, Bangalore and Chikballapur, Bangalore and Hosur and in several other parts of the State. The ramshackle condition of the jatkas, the sorry state of the ponies and the dilapidated harness patched up with twine or whatever else comes to hand, often resulting in dire accident to occupants, are all within our experience. It is necessary, therefore, to exercise some supervision over these public conveyances in the interests of public safety.

As the needs and requirements of a town like that of Bangalore may be different from those of other parts of the State and as the present Bill is based chiefly on the Regulation of 1887 which applies exclusively to Bangalore City, it is desirable that the Bill should receive the scrutiny of a Select Committee. I now move that the Bill for the regulation and control of Hackney Carriages be read in Council.

Mr. D. Devaraj Urs seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty then moved that the above Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

(1) Mr. S. Narayana Rao,
(2) „ D. Devaraj Urs,
(3) „ Rajamantrapravina C. Srinivasiengar,
(4) „ M. Narayana Rao,
(5) „ D. Venkataramayya and
(6) The mover.

The motion was seconded by Mr. D. Devaraj Urs, put to the Council and carried.

A Bill further to amend the Mysore Chief Court Regulation, 1884.

Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya, in moving that the ordinary rules of business regarding publication be suspended and the above Bill be read in Council, said—Sir, there are various motions to-day which refer to the suspension of the rules of business. The object is not to cut short discussion. In most cases the Bills have been carefully considered by Select Committees and so there is no necessity to delay their being taken into consideration by the Council. In a few other cases some days have been wanting in the interval between the publication and this day to make up the required number; and as such rules which require an interval to elapse between these two dates are meant only to ensure that proper notice has been given to members and as notice has reached them as a matter of fact, we have had recourse to this expedient of asking that certain rules be suspended. It is not the wish of Government to throw any obstacles in the way of honourable members discussing the Bill. If further consideration and discussion are necessary, Government is not disposed to press this particular motion to suspend the rules of business. In the motion that I am now just going to make, it is not this want of interval that has obliged us to ask for a suspension of the rules, but the fact that we have received representations from the Chief Court that there has been a congestion of work there and that appeal cases cannot be got through as expeditiously as is desirable. They recommend that both Civil and Criminal appeals which are preferred to that Court from Courts in the Bangalore Division, i.e., from the decisions of Munsiffs, and Subordinate Judges and Magistrates of the First Class, should be heard by a single Judge instead of by two Judges, as, in that case, twice the number of cases can be disposed of in the same time. But Government considered it undesirable to accede to the proposal in the matter of Criminal appeals. The Bill, therefore, enables the disposal of Civil appeals by a single Judge. This will help the Chief Court to dispose of more Civil appeals than hitherto. Provision will be made for second appeals in such cases by suitably amending the Code of Civil Procedure. This will no doubt throw some new work on the Judges, but, as only a fraction of the first appeals go as second appeals the net result of the measure is bound to be conducive to speedier disposal of work in that Court.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the above Bill be not referred to a Select Committee and that the ordinary rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Bill being taken into consideration by the Council. Mr. S. Narayana Rao seconded the motion.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR.—Sir,—My ideal of judicial arrangement is that, at the cheapest cost possible, the judgment of the highest tribunal must be obtained. It is provided by law that there shall lie but one appeal to a Bench consisting of two Judges of the Chief Court from judgments delivered by Courts in the Bangalore Division. Parties should consider themselves very fortunate in having two Judges to determine the appeal. If it were practicable, an appeal to two Judges of the Chief Court must be allowed from judgments of the Courts of other divisions of the State also. The advantage that the people of the Bangalore Division have is that they have to incur only the minimum cost. There is no further temptation to spend money. My submission is that beyond the exceedingly guarded statement of objects and reasons, there are no facts to show that there is congestion of work in the Chief Court. The other reason is that the Courts of the Bangalore Division must be brought into line with the Courts of other divisions. Assuming that there is a congestion of work in the Chief Court, what is its nature and what is its extent? No facts and figures have been placed before the Council to show that the congestion of work complained of is such as not to be overcome by an extra sitting. If it is only a small congestion, an extra sitting will be enough to remove it. The judges of the High Court of Madras sit on five days in the week and sometimes on six. But here, in the Chief Court, the judges sit only on three days. If the congestion is such as can be reduced by an extra sitting or two, it does not justify the curtailing of a valuable privilege enjoyed by the people. My submission, therefore, is that this is a matter which is to be examined more closely than it can be at such a short notice. The agenda paper was received by me only on the 17th. I do not know what the date was in the case of others and so I had no opportunity of furnishing myself with the necessary data for supporting or opposing the Bill.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then said,—Sir,—Since there is difference of opinion, I beg to withdraw the motion not to refer the bill to a Select Committee and propose that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

Messrs. C. Srinivasiengar,
A. Rangaswami Iyengar,
D. Venkataramaiya,
M. C. Rangiengar,
S. Narayana Rao, and myself.

Mr. S. Narayana Rao seconded the above motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

The remaining motions in regard to the above Bill were allowed to be withdrawn.

A Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation, 1902.

In moving that the Bill to amend the Mysore Local Boards Regulation be read in Council, Mr. K. P. Puttanna Chetty said:—

Sir,—The proposition I have now the honor to move refers to an amendment of the Mysore Local Boards Regulation. This Regulation which was enacted in 1902 has been found to be not sufficiently comprehensive to provide for the needs and requirements of non-Municipal areas in the matter of sanitation, control and regulation of offensive trades, regulation of heavy traffic and such other matters. As the Municipal Regulation cannot apply to such localities, the only provision of law besides the Local Boards Regulation under which action can be taken by the authorities in sanitary matters, is the Village Sanitation Regulation of 1898. But even this is an exceedingly meagre enactment, and does not empower the Government to frame rules, for example, for the regulation of musafirkhanas, slaughter-houses and cart-stands. It has, therefore, been found necessary to amend the Local Boards Regulation so as to provide comprehensively for all the matters referred to above. The necessity for this amendment has actually arisen in some places. For instance, a large majority of the people of Sravanabelagola belong to the Jain persuasion and they have several times petitioned the Government that the location of slaughter-houses in places which are particularly objectionable to local sentiment should not be permitted. It was found that action in the matter could not be taken in the absence of the requisite legal authority. Again, cases have arisen where sale of articles otherwise liable to the control of a local body such as a Municipality has been carried on by persons just outside a Municipal area, thereby evading the Municipal Regulations and also interfering with the legitimate custom of properly licensed vendors of such articles within Municipal limits. There is no means now of reaching such people through the law. Having regard to these circumstances, the Government have considered it desirable that power should be given to the District Boards to frame such bye-laws as may by them be deemed necessary in regard to the regulation, inspection and control of musafirkhanas, markets, slaughter-houses, places used for carrying on dangerous or offensive trades, cart-stands, burial places and burning grounds, for the inspection of hotels, bakeries, sweetmeat shops and other places intended for the sale of human food or drink and for the prevention of nuisances in respect of water-supply and public health generally. The occasion has also been utilised to provide for another matter, namely, the control of unwieldy traffic on roads within the jurisdiction of a District Board. Instances have occurred recently where heavy traction engines have been made to ply in certain places causing considerable damage to the roads and culverts and inconvenience and danger to the public. It is felt that some control over the use of public roads for such purposes is necessary and it is therefore proposed to prohibit the transit of unwieldy vehicles that may be deemed likely to cause injury to the roadway or to any construction thereon or risk or obstruction to other vehicles or pedestrians, except on payment of regulated fees or tolls and on the observance of such conditions as to time, mode of traction, lights and such general precautions as may be prescribed generally or specially in regard to such cases. I am sure that the members of this Council will agree as to the necessity for this provision.

In conclusion, I may add that the changes now to be enacted are to be found in the corresponding enactments of British India and in regard to certain matters in our own Municipal Regulation. Further, the amending Bill is only of an enabling character and it is not incumbent on any District Board to take action under these clauses unless it finds a clear necessity to do so. Proper safeguards have been devised against unwise or hasty action by any District Board by rendering it necessary that the drafts of all bye-laws intended to be framed by the District Boards should be first published and criticism invited and if any received, duly considered. Further, these bye-laws cannot acquire the force of law until they are sanctioned by Government who have got the power of making such modifications in them as may to them appear desirable or proper. I now move that the Bill be read in Council.

MR. D. DEVARAJA URS seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY then moved that the above Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of—

(1) Mr. D. Devaraja Urs,
(2) ,, S. Narayana Rao,
(3) ,, Rajamantrapravina C. Srinivasiengar,
(4) ,, D. Venkataramaiya,
(5) ,, M. Narayana Rao, and
(6) The mover.

This was seconded by Mr. D. Devaraj Urs, was put to the Council and carried.

The Code of Civil Procedure Bill.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—The Code of Civil Procedure now in force is an adaptation of the British Indian Act of 1882, which closely followed that of 1877. The Act of 1908 which came to force in British India from the 1st of January 1909 has widely departed from the old model, if not to a large extent in matter, in the arrangement of the different parts. As I have already mentioned this change in the speech with which I had the honour of introducing this Bill before this Council, I shall not take up any of your valuable time in going over the same ground.

With your permission, I shall draw attention to a few of the important additions and improvements introduced by this new measure.

The most striking change is the division of the Code into two parts; the main principles are grouped together in the Act proper, which can be altered only by the Imperial legislature and is common to the whole of British India. The matters of detail, which however are by no means less important for the administration of justice, are provided for by orders, which each Province is allowed to modify according to its exigencies by the acts of its committees constituted according to provisions contained in the Act. This feature of the Code is however only of subordinate importance for us, as we have only one Chief Court and can have one Rules Committee for the whole State.

There are, however, other changes which cannot but improve the administration of justice in a large degree when they come to be well understood and properly applied. I shall give a few instances of such additions, without attempting to exhibit them in their logical order.

One of the chief objects seems to have been to make pleadings more precise by narrowing the matters at issue before going to regular trial so as to save time and expense to parties. Orders VI, VII and VIII deal with this subject, and Section 153 of the Act gives a more comprehensive power than hitherto possessed by the Courts to amend any defect or error in any proceeding in a suit. The same object is served by the new provisions about admissions and denials contained in Orders XII and VIII and about the manner of framing and answering interrogatories in Order XI.

Many provisions are newly introduced for the purpose of ensuring that the relief obtained by the parties may be effectively secured for them. Section 46 provides that a decree-holder may obtain a temporary attachment of property in another jurisdiction before he can get his decree transferred there. The summary method of enforcing a receiver's liability (O. XL, R. 4) is a similar provision. Section 151 goes as far as is perhaps safe, if indeed it has not gone further, by saving the "inherent power" of the Court "to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court." In fact, if it were not for the well-known tendency of Courts of law to be guided by precedents, one could easily imagine that the doctrine of inherent power may be carried to dangerous lengths. The rule contained in Order XLI, R. 33 enlarging the powe of a Court of appeal is conceived in the same spirit of doing complete justice between the parties at all costs.

Some useful novel provisions have been introduced to supply defects in the old Code, or to modify procedure in the interests of judgment-debtors according to more advanced ideas. Thus there are rules about suits by or against firms (Order XXX) and about those relating to mortgages (O. XXXIV) which are fuller and more in accordance with the demands of equity and justice. Several new and useful provisions are contained in the Sections and Rules dealing with execution. A Court has power to get acts which ought to be done by a judgment-debtor done at his expense. [O. XXI, R. 32 (5).] The Courts are given power to decline to imprison parties in cases of restitution of conjugal rights, and to give maintenance to a wife who holds a decree in such a suit (R. 33). Special provisions are introduced in the interests of agriculturists in Section 61 and in the rules about attachment and sale of agricultural produce. Section 91 is a useful provision in connection with suits about public nuisances, 97 to limit the liberty of reserving objections to preliminary decrees, and Section 103 to empower the Chief Court to determine issues of fact without remand.

I think these examples are sufficient to show that we are well advised in adopting the new Code of British India as the basis of our Civil Procedure. In framing our Bill, we have of course left out such provisions as can have no local application, such as those relating to special places and tribunals of British India of which we have no counterparts (Ss. 8, 45, 93, 109-112, 116-120, 125, 129, 140, and Orders and Rules V—22, XXI—4, XLV, XLIX and LI), provisions required on account of there being different Provinces with independent High Courts there (Ss. 25, 28 and 40); those relating to aliens and foreign Princes (Ss. 83-87) and those relating to suits against Government (XXVII—4-6).

The Bill has been subjected to detailed and careful examination by the Select Committee under the able and experienced guidance of Rajamantrapravina Mr. C. Srinivasiengar. In fact, the work occupied the members much longer time than was anticipated, and they had to obtain extension of time by the indulgence of the President. The thanks of Government are due to the non-official members who devoted their valuable time at considerable sacrifice to this rather dry and prosaic task.

The number of alterations proposed is somewhat large, but very few of them involve any matters of important principle, or raise any questions of controversy. The Select Committee has therefore recommended that this Bill be proceeded with without republication.

I shall now, with your permission, explain the more important changes made by the Select Committee; but, before doing so, I would first invite your attention to a small point which was raised at the recent sitting of the Representative Assembly. The representation referred to is that provision should be made to give judgment-debtor notice of an intended sale by restoring the provisions omitted by the Select Committee in para 2 of Rule 66 of Order XXI. The rules as now framed and as in force require that attachments and sales should be proclaimed at the place where property is situated and that the order should be posted in a conspicuous part of the property. To go further and prescribe service of notice would, in the opinion of Government, still further retard the realization of money due to decree-holders. There is no doubt that in some cases judgment-debtors may lose their property unjustly without receiving any notice, but such cases of real ignorance must be rare and do not seem to justify the enactment of a provision throwing further obstacles in the way of executing decrees of Courts. If, however, the members of the Honor'ble Council would desire to have such a provision, the Government would not stand in the way of their carrying an amendment to that effect.

MR. NANJUNDAYYA then referred to and explained the important changes made by the Select Committee in the several clauses of the Bill and moved that the report be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council.

MR. SYED AMIR HASSAN seconded the motion.

DEWAN.—The fact that no other honor'ble member of this Council has got any observations to make on this important motion shows the ability and thoroughness with which the Select Committee have threshed out this Bill. It gives me very great pleasure to put this motion to the vote.

The motion was then adopted.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the word and figure "July 1911" be substituted for "January 19" in sub-clause (2) of clause 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure Bill.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—Until the Small Cause Courts Regulation provided for revision separately, it was thought that it was necessary to retain the application of clause 115 of the Bill to decisions by Courts of Small Causes. As it is now proposed to pass the Small Cause Courts Bill and the Civil Procedure Bill simultaneously and as both will come into force on the same day, it is no longer necessary that Section 115 should apply to the decisions of Small Cause Courts. The Small Cause Courts Bill contains an appropriate provision on the point and I therefore move that the word and figure "and 115" recommended by the Select Committee to be omitted from clause 7 (b) be restored.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR moved that the following sub-clause be added to clause 48 of the above Bill, viz.—"The exemptions as provided by Sections 6, 7 and 8 of the Mysore Limitation Regulation shall extend to a person entitled to make an application for the execution of a decree under this section, where such person is at the time from which the period of limitation is to be reckoned a minor, or an insane or an idiot," and said:—

Sir,—Under Sections 7 and 8 of the Indian Limitation Act (6 and 7 of the Limitation Bill) exemption from its operation is extended to minors and other persons under disability. This exemption relates only to suits and applications for which periods of limitation are provided in the second schedule of the Act, so that, when a cause of action accrues to a minor, it is not affected by the period of limitation prescribed by the Act. After attaining majority he has got three years at least within which to file a suit. Now the period of limitation contained in Section 230 of the old Civil Procedure Code is a special provision of limitation provided in the Code which is not affected by the Limitation Act. That section stands independently of the Limitation Act. Inasmuch as it is independent of the Limitation Act, the minor obtaining a decree through a next friend may have his remedy barred even before he attains majority. If, on behalf of a minor a year old, a next friend files a suit and obtains a decree but does not diligently execute it, the minor will find that his right to execute the decree is time-barred. In regard to the question whether the provisions of the Limitation Act apply to Section 48 of the new Civil Procedure Code, the High Courts in British India differ in view, some High Courts holding that the benefits extended to persons suffering from disability extend also to cases falling within Section 48 of the new Civil Procedure Code, and others holding that the special provision in the Civil Procedure Code is unaffected by the Limitation Act. There being a difference of opinion among the several High Courts, I respectfully submit that it is very necessary to protect the interests of minors obtaining decrees through their next friends by having their rights retained to them even after they attain majority. They may have three years after they attain majority within which period to execute the decree. As regards the word 'exemption,' I am not quite sure if it is a very proper word; strictly speaking, it is not an exemption; it is more an extension or a benefit extended to persons suffering from disability. It is really a hardship to the minor that while, if a cause of action for a suit accrues to a minor, it is kept intact until he attains majority, the right to execute a decree obtained during minority is not so kept intact.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, in seconding the proposition said:—Sir,—We are only trying to bring into force or give effect to the opinion of one section of the Judges in British India. The provision we are now trying to introduce is one the effect of which is to extend the period during which a decree is kept alive. The object of the law of limitation is to restrict the period during which a person may execute a decree. But in the case of minors and other persons under disability, as they are not able to protect their rights and prosecute them, it is only proper that they should receive the protection of the law and that they should not be compelled or subjected to the restriction imposed in this way. I think, therefore, that I am promoting the interests of justice in seconding the motion.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA.—Sir,—If the decree should provide for a certain amount of interest to be given and if the time is to be prolonged to more than 12 years, as it would be by the introduction of a clause like this, it would be ruinous to the debtor. An imprudent debtor may go into insolvency and may have to start life again. The provisions in the Limitation Act which relate to the execution of decrees are conceived in the spirit of helping an imprudent judgment-debtor. So the Act provides that decrees for money should be executed within 12 years after they are passed. If more time is given to the decree-holder, unnecessary duties will be cast upon the judgment-debtor. Sometimes one disability may intervene before another is removed and thus there would be no end. I think, therefore, that the provision in the British Indian Act is very beneficial. To prolong the agony would not be in the interests of the debtor or of the public.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR.—Sir,—The material difference between a suit and a decree is this. In the case of a decree, time begins to run from the date of the decree, for on that date there is somebody who has till then efficiently represented the minor. But if, owing to any neglect on the part of the next friend, the decree is not executed, he alone must be held responsible; so that after the date of the decree the question is, who should be held responsible in case the decree is allowed to lie in abeyance? But in the other case, i.e., when no suit is filed, there is, either no next friend or guardian, or if there is one, he does not care to protect the interests of his ward. If a person who has acted on behalf of the minor, taken action, filed a suit and obtained a decree, is subsequently guilty of negligence and does not execute the decree it is a matter entirely between him and his ward. It is a case of damages by reason of his neglect. To me it appears that there is a clear difference between the two cases. If a decree is obtained, it must be executed within the time allowed by law.

MR. A. RAMANNA.—Sir,—I am fully of the same opinion as Mr. C. Srinivasiengar. Dealings must have some finality and end within a certain time. Twelve years have been considered to be a long enough period for creating or extinguishing rights. So I do not think the period ought to be extended.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—Sir,—All rules of limitation are a hardship but the convenience of society requires that there should be a limit to the period during which a person may enforce his rights. It is on that consideration of convenience that the law of limitation is based. Now, with reference to a decree, two cases arise. One is a decree obtained by a major or a person who is not disqualified under any law before the execution of the decree or before the expiry of 12 years mentioned in Section 48 of the new Civil Procedure Code Bill. He may die leaving a minor. In such a case the motion now made does not apply. For, when once time has begun to run no subsequent disability will stop it. The other case is where a next friend obtains a decree during the minority of a person on his behalf. The question is whether the person who took the trouble of obtaining a decree would allow it to remain unexecuted. It is highly improbable that he would thus neglect to reap the fruits of the decree which he obtained. But apart from this improbability, I should like to know if it is expedient to lay down a rule of law to meet certain exceptional cases. As I already submitted, rules of limitation are hard. The question is now whether it is advisable to make the period within which a decree must be executed longer than 12 years, the period fixed by clause 48 of the Code of Civil Procedure Bill. It seems to me that it is not, as other remedies are available.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—Clause 48 is to the effect that where an application to execute a decree not being a decree granting an injunction has been made, no order for the execution of the same decree shall be made after the expiration of 12 years from—

(a) the date of the decree sought to be executed, or

(b) where the decree or any subsequent order directs any payment of money or the delivery of any property to be made at a certain date or at recurring periods, the date of the default in making the payment or the delivery in respect of which the applicant seeks to execute the decree.

Then, there is an exception to this which is given in sub-clause (2), which states that nothing in this clause shall be deemed to preclude the Court from ordering the execution of a decree upon an application presented after the expiration of the said term of 12 years where the judgment-debtor has, by fraud or force, prevented the execution of the decree at some time within 12 years immediately before the date of the application.

Now, it is intended to give an exemption from this rule in the case of minors, etc. I do not think that the difficulty raised by my friend Mr. M. C. Rangiengar, is met by the answers of Mr. C. Srinivasiengar. The principle underlying the law regarding minors is that they take the benefit of all acts done on their behalf; but that, if acts are done against their interests, they have the opportunity of repudiating them. It is only in cases where a decree has been obtained by a person acting on behalf of a minor that the period of limitation of 12 years will run against him.

If the decree has been obtained before the minor comes on the tapis, Section 9 of the Limitation Regulation would prevent this exemption from causing any advantage to him. It is quite true that a proper guardian must have acted for the minor to obtain a decree. But it is not quite true to say that such a guardian would not fail to take steps to execute the decree. If a person can be so negligent of his own interests as not to execute a decree obtained for himself there is not the slightest difficulty in imagining a case in which a guardian may lose his interest in the minor and so fail to execute the decree obtained by him on behalf of the minor. It may happen that the guardian may die after the decree was obtained. In all such cases, there is nobody from whom the minor may seek redress. It may be that the act of the guardian was a self-imposed task and I do not suppose that a person who takes the trouble to obtain a decree on behalf of a minor should at the same time be compellable to take pains to execute it and realise its benefits. It is a work of charity so far and he ought not to be found fault with if he does not continue it. He may have his own interests to guard which may be more than he can manage, or he may be unable to execute the decree. In such cases there is no doubt that the interests of the minor will be sacrificed. But the interests of the minor are not always protected; for example, Section 9 of the Limitation Regulation itself shows it. Now the question for us to consider is, which of two equally reasonable alternatives is to be adopted? Here, on the one hand, there is the interest of the minor which has to be protected against all unjust attacks. On the other hand, there is the interest of the judgment-debtor. It is expedient that the liability under the decree should not be kept alive for a long time. It is on that account that this period of limitation has been provided on the presumption that, if a person does not take steps to execute a decree which he has obtained within that period, he may be supposed not to attach very much importance to it. So far as this question is concerned, Government is not either for or against the proposal being carried. We are willing to leave it to be determined by the Council; and if it is the wish of this Council that this amendment should be carried, Government would not stand in the way. So far as my own personal opinion is concerned, I think that, on the whole, the amendment is one that deserves to be carried. If a suit had not been filed on behalf of the minor, he would have the cause of action surviving in his favour, and would be able to file a suit on attaining majority. Why, then, should it make a difference if somebody, perhaps officiously, obtains a decree on his behalf and then fails to execute it? Why should not the minor be placed just in the same position as he would be in if a suit had not been filed? I would therefore vote for the carrying of this proposal so far as I am personally concerned.

MR. D. SHAMA RAO.—The question now is whether it is the interest of the judgment-debtor or that of the minor which is to be protected. It is the duty of Government to guard the interests of the minor. The amendment of Mr. Rangiengar therefore seems reasonable.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY said that so far as his individual opinion was concerned, his sympathies were with the judgment-debtor in this matter.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR.—I may be allowed to say a few words in reply. After what Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya submitted to the Council, there is very little for me to say by way of reply. Those who opposed my motion thought that this amendment was of a speculative character and was not suggested by any cases that have arisen in practice. But there are concrete cases in which hardship has resulted to the minor. No less than 12 such cases are pending in Mysore now. Again another objection raised was that the period of exercising the right would be indefinitely prolonged. Take the case of a cause of action for a suit. Is not the period indefinitely prolonged? In cases where there are successive disabilities, even the period allowed for instituting the suit would be indefinitely prolonged. Now, so far as a case in which a cause of action has accrued to a minor is concerned, it is clear that the right to institute the suit is kept alive until he attains majority. But if the cause of action accrues after the period of minority, no subsequent disability stops it. If it accrues during minority, the minor has got the benefit of Sections 6 and 7 of the Limitation Regulation. In the case of a decree, the cause of action accrues from the date of the decree. It is not really a cause of action, it is a decree, because the claim is merged in the decree. Then it was submitted for the consideration of the Council that the interests of the judgment-debtor also should be protected. I fail to understand how his interests need be protected. It was said that, if the period were extended, the debtor would have to pay a large sum in the shape of interest. Can he not prevent the interest from accumulating by paying the judgment-debt as soon as he can? My friend Mr. D. Venkataramaiya observed that certain insolvency provisions are being enacted now to protect the interests of the judgment-debtor and that if the amendment I propose be passed into law, it would prevent the benefit of those provisions being extended to him. My argument was that the same indulgence which was shown to the minor in the matter of filing a suit may be shown in the matter of executing a decree also. Mr. C. Srinivasiengar said that the minor will have a claim for damages against his guardian on account of loss sustained by his neglect. But nowhere does the law say that, merely because a next friend who obtains a decree on behalf of a minor fails to execute it he or his property is liable to make good the loss so sustained by his failing to execute the decree.

With the permission of the President, Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya remarked that though he was in favor of Mr. Rangiengar's amendment generally, he would not vote for it if it applied to pending cases or to decrees already barred by time. Mr. Rangiengar agreed and said that he had no objection to the amendment on the paper being suitably modified. After some further discussion as to the wording of the amendment, the Council adopted by 8 to 5 the following amendment in place of the one originally moved by Mr. Rangiengar:—

"The provisions of Sections 6, 7 and 8 of the Mysore Limitation Regulation shall, as far as they are applicable, extend to a person entitled to make an application for execution of a decree under this section, where such person is at the time from which the period of limitation is to be reckoned a minor, or insane or an idiot; provided that this shall not empower a Court to make an order for the execution of a decree where at the date of the coming into force of this enactment it could not make such an order."

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—I beg to move that the words "together with a copy of the memorandum of appeal to be furnished by the appellant at the time of filing the appeal" be inserted after the expression "and a like notice" and before "shall be sent" in para (1) of Rule 14 of Order XLI.

The Code requires that a copy of a plaint shall be served on the defendant along with the summons. But a similar rule does not exist with regard to appeals. The reason for the distinction seems to be that the opponent in an appeal who has appeared and contested the suit in the lower Court would be able to understand more or less clearly the grounds that are likely to be urged against him in the Court of appeal. A representation was however made to Government in the last Representative Assembly that a provision to this effect may be made. This has been provided for in respect of appeals presented to the High Court of Madras by rules made in 1902. It seems to Government that this would be a useful provision entailing very little additional trouble on the parties. The motion may be adopted by the Council.

MR. VENKATARAMAIYA seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

The motion for the omission of the words "or otherwise" in Rule 10 of Order XI having been moved by Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya and seconded by MR. S. Narayana Rao, was adopted by the Council.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA, then moved that the Code of Civil Procedure Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. Mr. D. Venkataramaiya seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Guardians and Wards in Mysore.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO, in moving that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Guardians and Wards in Mysore be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council, said:—

Sir,—This Bill was, at the last meeting of the Council, referred to the Select Committee and I beg to formally present the report of the Committee which has already been printed and circulated among the members. The Report may therefore be taken as read.

It will be noticed that the Committee have made very few alterations in the Bill. I do not therefore wish to occupy the time of the Council by dilating on the same. As one of the honourable members of the Committee has added a note to the report in certain respects, I may be permitted to make a few observations on the same.

The first two paras of the note deal with the definition of a minor. One of the fundamental principles of Legislation is that the State can legislate for its own subjects whether natural born or domiciled. A foreigner who enters the State without any intention of changing his domicile is governed by the principles of private International Law according to which his capacity to contract, etc., is regulated by the laws of his own country with certain limitations. We might have therefore safely omitted without prejudicing anybody in the definition of the word "minor" in clause 3, sub-clause (1), the words, "or if he is not domiciled in Mysore, has not attained majority according to the law to which he is subject." In order to remove the doubts expressed in some quarter that when steps have to be taken for the protection of the property and persons of foreigners including European British subjects their age of majority might be cut down to 18 years while they are still minors according to their personal law the said clause was put in the Bill. This definition of a minor is for the purpose of this Bill alone. It cannot be taken to determine the capacity of a person for contractual purposes or for the purpose of any other Regulation. Certain clauses relating to European British subjects in the British Indian Acts were omitted in the original Bill for the simple reason we were not legislating for European British subjects in particular.

The next three questions raised in the note were discussed in the Committee and the Committee concluded that it is not advisable to introduce any change in the Bill in these respects.

MR. D. SHAMA RAO seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. NARAYANA RAO'S next motion, viz., the insertion of the word and figure "July 1911" after the words "the first day of" and in place of the figure "19" in clause 1 (3) of the above Bill having been duly seconded and carried, he then moved that the above Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. Mr. D. Shama Rao, seconded the motion which was put to the Council and carried.

The Mysore Limitation Bill.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA in moving that the ordinary rules of business regarding publication be suspended and the report of the Select Committee on the Limitation Bill be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council, said—

Sir,—This is a consolidating Regulation and was enacted in British India mainly with the view of obviating the difficulties that arose from the decision of the Privy Council that the period of limitation to be allowed in respect of suits on mortgages of property in forms other than what is known as the English form was only 12 years, and that this rule applied even in the case of suits on usufructuary mortgages. We here are unaffected by that decision and our object in re-enacting the Limitation Act is only to consolidate the law on the point adopting such changes in phraseology as are necessitated by the new Code of Civil Procedure. This was also one of the reasons which weighed with the Government of India in re-enacting the measure.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then dwelt on some of the important alterations made in Schedule II of the Bill by the Select Committee and proposed that the ordinary rules of business regarding publication be suspended and the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA'S next motion for the insertion of the word and figure "July 1911" after the words "the first day of" in clause 1 (3) of the Limitation Bill was second by MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR and carried by the Council.

At this stage Mr. Rangiengar pointed out a verbal mistake in column 3 of Article 174 of the first schedule, viz., the occurrence of the word "decree" for "process" which was to be found in the article in the old Act which the present Article 174 replaced. His motion for necessary change being made in the article was adopted by the Council.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Limitation Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

The Mysore Insolvency Bill.

In presenting the Report of the Select Committee on this Bill MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA said,—Sir,—Mr. Tirumalachar, who was one of the members of the Committee, having unfortunately resigned, we had to proceeded with only four members on the Select Committee. All that is to be stated about the Bill is stated in the Report of the Select Committee. I do not think it necessary to say anything more. I now move that the rules of business regarding publication be suspended and that the report of the Select Committee on the above Bill be taken into consideration and adopted by the Council.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA.—SIR,—I cannot approve of the Select Committee's omission of clause 25 of the Bill. It will be very difficult for a creditor to go all the way to Court in person if he resides at a great distance from the Court-house.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—Sir,—With your permission I would move that clause 25 be retained. The Select Committee have omitted that clause. I move for its retention as it is a very useful provision. I have already mentioned in the note I appended to the report of the Select Committee the reason why I would recommend its retention. It facilitates the proof of the claim of a creditor who might be living at a great distance from the Court-house or who might be unable to personally appear in Court. There are also safeguards against false claims being advanced; for, the Court can call for other proof of the claim either of its own motion or at the instance of any one of the other creditors. The receiver also may move the Court for removing from the list of the names of creditors the name of any one who has advanced a false claim. When there are so many safeguards there is no danger in allowing the provision for this mode of proof to be retained in the Bill. The clause has been omitted for the reason that the country is a very small one and hence that every creditor can conveniently arrange to have his case represented in Court. But even in the case of creditors residing within the Mysore Province, there may be inconveniences which render their personal attendance in Court difficult. Merchants in Benares and other distant places have dealings with persons residing in the Province of Mysore and they send very valuable consignments. If a merchant at Bangalore becomes an insolvent, not only those of his creditors who live outside the Mysore Province will be inconvenienced but also those who live in the Province itself in distant places like Shimoga and Kadur. This inconvenience which a creditor has to suffer in proving his claim would be an obstacle in the way of trade. Merchants may become too wary and may not trust the people of Mysore. On these several grounds the retention of this clause is desirable. I, therefore, move that this clause be retained.

MR. D. VENKATARAMAIYA.—Sir,—I beg to second the motion for the retention of the clause. Because, if the clause were retained, a creditor would save a good deal of time and money by submitting an affidavit from his own place instead of travelling all the way to the Court-house and proving his claim. If the debtor is an insolvent, nothing can be gained by the creditor appearing in person in Court. A provision like the one proposed will be very useful.

MR. A. RAMANNA.—Sir,—The object of the Insolvency Act is that the creditor should not lose much good money after bad. In case the debtor is an insolvent, the creditor can get only very little. So it is not proper to lay down that he should appear in person or by pleader—which means expense—having regard to the fact that there is very little chance of his claim being fully satisfied.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—Government would leave this motion to the judgment of this Council. For my part, I am quite opposed to the amendment. There is not only the ease with which the claim can be proved by the creditor which has to be considered but one has also to see that the proof is of a kind which can be safely acted upon. Supposing the creditor must go himself to the Court-house, he must produce his vouchers, produce evidence and submit himself and his witnesses to cross-examination in open Court. Now by this amendment you mean to do away with all those safeguards. You may perhaps do so safely in many cases. But it is at the same time quite probable that many unjust claims will be advanced. If a person really owes debts to the extent of Rs. 200, a dishonest creditor may say that he owes to the extent of Rs. 2,000. And if the debtor is worth only Rs. 500 you will see what the real creditor will get. The dishonest creditor and the debtor may collude with each other and defeat the interests of the real creditors. If you take an affidavit from a person, it means that he is one who, in ordinary circumstances, can be trusted to speak the truth. Now, suppose, there is a large firm which has, say, 50 clerks who keep various sorts of accounts. One keeps say, a ledger, another a day-book, a third a cashbook and so on. In such a case there is no difficulty in ascertaining the truth. But take the case of a petty shop-keeper who keeps just a memorandum of articles sold in some torn book. Do you think it is safe to rely on his affidavit? How many people are there, the volume of whose transactions, whose credit and general status in society make it safe for us to rely on their affidavits? I fear it is only very few. It is more on this account than on the balance of ease and difficulty of proof that I was for omitting it. I think that the state of business here and the kind of cases that are likely to occur are not such as to justify our accepting proof by affidavit of the claims of creditors.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—I wish to add a little to the remarks made in support of the amendment. All the remarks of the mover referred only to the question of admitting the affidavit in evidence. They had no reference to the weight to be given to that evidence. From the mere fact that the affidavit is admissible in evidence, it does not follow that it should be believed as true. All the arguments of my learned friend, Mr. H. V. Nanjundayya, are directed to the contingency in which such an affidavit is taken as actual proof of the fact stated therein. There is the Court, there are the opposing creditors. If all these do not see reason to call the truth of the statement in the affidavit in question, the Court may in its discretion accept the claim on the strength of the affidavit or call for further proof of the claim set forth therein. But if they find reason to suspect collusion between the debtor and the creditor who has filed the affidavit, they have got a right to object to the affidavit being admitted in evidence, and then the Court must call for other proof. The affidavit is only something like a plea put forward before the issues are framed. It is only a question of admission in evidence which we are now considering. In a case of insolvency it will not only save expense but save time to the Court itself. Very often if a creditor is to appear in person or is to engage a lawyer, he has to spend a large sum of money. And the tendency in insolvency proceedings is to minimise the circumlocution of the proceedings. I think it is better to minimise the cost of the proceedings as far as possible. As the amendment is intended only to give an opportunity to the creditor of proving his debt, I think it may well be adopted.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR.—Sir,—Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar seems to think that the amendment, if adopted, would accelerate business. Far from hastening business it would retard it for the simple reason that there are several creditors and each of them will be naturally anxious that every claim should be proved in as satisfactory a manner as possible. They are not likely to agree as to the sufficiency of proof; and so they will only ask for better proof, so that much time will be lost rather than gained by adopting this mode of proof.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—Sir,—Much of what I had to say has been stated by Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar. I may mention one or two things. It was stated that this mode of proof would prolong litigation. Any person may challenge and call for better proof of the claim advanced in the affidavit. My answer is, till challenged the affidavit would be accepted as true. The least counter-evidence would make the Court suspicious of the allegations in the affidavit and then the Court will call for better proof. But a party calling for better proof will think twice before he challenges the claim of a respectable merchant.

In the case of merchants who have no credit and whose words cannot be taken implicitly, the Court itself will call for direct proof of the claim. I do not think that proof by affidavit is liable to prolong litigation in insolvency proceedings any more than in other proceedings. Some delay must be expected in all legal matters and I don't think that there is any special cause for delay in this. I, therefore, think that this kind of proof may be accepted.

MR. A. RAMANNA.—Sir,—In ex parte cases, affidavits of plaints are sent from distant places and decrees are passed. What I mean is where the plaintiff cannot come to the Court, but is allowed to send an affidavit to the effect that his claim is true, the truth of the affidavit being sworn to in the presence of a Magistrate, the claim is decreed. There could not possibly be any harm in accepting the affidavit as proof where there is no contention at all. If there is contention, vouchers, etc., would be needed.

The amendment was then put to the vote and carried by a majority. (7 for and 6 against.)

In moving for the retention of clause 53 of the above Bill, MR. S. NARAYANA RAO said,—Sir,—With reference to this clause, I think that it is nothing less than a crime to borrow money without disclosing that the borrower is an undischarged insolvent. The reasonableness of this amendment is quite clear. So I need not dwell on it at any length. If the borrower is in insolvent circumstances and borrows when he knows that he will not be in a position to discharge the debt, on the due date, he is guilty of cheating; and so he should be made punishable and this clause which makes such a deception punishable should be retained. That would be a very great check upon persons receiving money from others when they are insolvent.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR seconded the motion and said :—

Sir,—An undischarged insolvent borrowing money is something like a person who gets money from another by cheating. He is sometimes one who has just got out of the Civil Jail on the understanding that his insolvency petition will be inquired into after he places his property in the custody of the Court, or against whom proceedings have been taken by a creditor. In either case he is a person labouring under a charge of being a man without means. In such a case it is in the interests of society that he should not be enabled to borrow without disclosing his defect. If people are willing or if they know that he is an insolvent, it is a different thing. If because he happens to be out of the jail, he borrows money without disclosing the fact that he is an insolvent, that would be very much like cheating. So such a provision is necessary in the interests of society.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir, I do not think the insolvent is such a common phenomenon in this country. If he makes a false representation he is liable to be punished. I am not in favor of multiplying penal provisions needlessly or to provide for rare eventualities.

MR. K. P. PUTTANNA CHETTY.—Sir,—I do not think it is quite necessary for a man to declare himself to be an undischarged insolvent each time he wants to obtain some small credit. I think the clause places an undue strain upon him. It is for the creditor to assure himself of the solvency of the borrower and not for the debtor to volunteer a statement which must naturally go against his interest. An undischarged insolvent may often be a man worthy of confidence. He may have come by his misfortune owing to circumstances over which he had no control and he may in reality be very much more worthy of confidence than many perfectly solvent persons. In our country an insolvent is very well known locally. It is not necessary for a declaration to be made. To my lay mind it appears that the omission of that provision was very proper.

The motion was then put to the vote and lost, 5 voting for and 8 against.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—In clause 16, sub-clause (3), referring to 'reputed ownership' has been omitted. I think this also is a provision for the protection of the public. Whether a society is a commercial one or not, it does not very much alter the question. In a commercial society, people are very wary and know the difficulties and pitfalls which are met with in money-lending. In an elementary state of society where people have not very much advanced in trade, people are not so careful in their dealings and so the provision is all the more necessary. Reputed ownership carries credit with it and induces people to lend money and then when the time comes the creditor is sent to the wall. I think that in order to meet cases of this kind it is better to keep that provision also. It is not right to say that it is necessary in an advanced society. That is the only reason given by the Select Committee for removing this provision and I do not think it is a good one.

MR. M. C. RANGIENGAR seconded the proposition and said,—Sir,—In fact the amendment follows from the law of Estoppel. Where a man allows another to believe that a certain person is the owner of certain property and to lend him money on that supposition, he cannot afterwards be allowed to deny it. Therefore, where a person allows that, he cannot afterwards be allowed to say that the property is his.

At this stage the Council adjoined till the next day.

Wednesday, the 23rd November 1910.

The Council met at 12 noon.

All were present except Messrs. K. S. Dorasami Iyer and D. Devaraj Urs among official members and Messrs. M. Narayana Rao and A. Ramanna, among non-official members.

The discussion on sub-clause (3) of clause 16 of the Insolvency Bill was resumed.

MR. C. SRINIVASIENGAR.—Sir,—From the beginning I have had serious misgivings as to the expediency of enacting a general law of insolvency for this State. For the reasons, however, stated in the Report of the Select Committee, I have allowed to be persuaded myself to agree to this modified measure. Several provisions in the British Indian Act which, in our opinion, are unsuited to the conditions of Mysore have been omitted. The Bill in the form in which it has been placed before the Council by the Select Committee proceeds on the lines of least resistance and tries to steer clear of needless difficulties and complications. The British Indian law which we are trying to follow is based on the English law of insolvency. Many provisions of that law are far ahead of the requirements of a State like Mysore. One of these is the provision which attempts to draw a subtle distinction between true ownership and reputed ownership. That is a provision which can only apply to large trading centres. That this is so is recognised by the British Indian Legislature itself as will be seen from the fact that instead of making the entire Act applicable as a matter of course throughout India they have provided for a large number of its provisions being declared inoperative in those parts of British India which are not sufficiently advanced to stand in need of them and among the several sections which could thus be held inapplicable to backward provinces or towns is this sub-section (3) of Section 16. Mysore is a small State and one place in it is as good or as bad as another. There is not much to differentiate one place from another, and I think it is a mistake for us to adopt in its entirety the Act which as regards some of its provisions could be declared inoperative even in portions of British India. Now my contention is this. The members of the Council are aware that this sub-clause is one which is not intended to be applied all over the country; and that its operation is to be limited only to particular places. Therefore, local Governments in British India have been authorised to declare by notification that this, among certain other provisions, shall not apply to other places. It is no disparagement to Mysore to say that we here are not as advanced as the people of large commercial places like Calcutta, Madras or Bombay or Ahmedabad. That being so, I do not see why we should adopt this provision, the retention of which is the object of the amendment. The only question for our Courts to decide is whether a certain property belongs to the insolvent or not. It is to be determined upon a consideration of the evidence put before the Court, and the probabilities of the case. If, in any particular case, the Court is satisfied that the true owner has led the public to believe that the ownership of the property in question resided in the ostensible owner and that he was, to all intents and purposes, the person entitled to deal with the property, the Court will come to such reasonable decision as the circumstances of the case warrant. As I understand this provision, it seems to me that it only provides for a presumption that in certain cases the person in possession of certain property is the owner of it. I do not think that any specific provision is required in the enactment for that purpose. We think that Mysore does not require a measure of this kind and I humbly submit for the consideration of the Council that the restoration of the provision is undesirable.

MR. S. NARAYANA RAO.—Sir,—Clause 16 deals with the presumption, in proof of ownership of certain property in a summary way. The omission of this clause in the Bill does not preclude the Court from acting upon the general principles of the law of Estoppel. If a person makes the public or any particular individual believe that a certain property, though belonging to him, really belongs to another, he will not be permitted under the general law of Estoppel to deny that other person's right. So he cannot assert his own right to the prejudice of the person who acted upon such a belief. So that principle of law will always be available whether this provision is to be in the Bill or not. The object of this provision is to provide a summary mode of proof. In the ordinary course there should be a separate suit for a declaration of the right of an insolvent debtor to property. Till then the real owner will not lose his right. But the only advantage gained by this provision in the Bill is that it provides a summary course. There are several such provisions in this Bill which enable a Court summarily to dispose of certain cases in which till now the parties had recourse to regular suits. It is an advantage to a commercial community, no doubt; because, the asset will be available to all the creditors with the least possible trouble. As the case goes before a very high tribunal such as the Court of a District Judge, there is the assurance that this summary provision will be properly administered. It is only to meet the requirements of a commercial community that the clause is to be retained in the Bill. It is quite clear that it will not be needed in every part of the Province; but whether Mysore is one that does not need it is the question we have to decide. If clause 54 had been retained the existence of this cause would have been harmless, because it would have been in the power of Government not to put this in force in any particular place or places. But as that clause has been removed, to introduce this clause in question unqualifiedly seems to me somewhat undesirable.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—The rule about reputed ownership must be understood as an exception to a well-known rule of law, that for my debts somebody else shall not be liable. For example, I take charge of any goods belonging to another person and sell them to somebody. He will not get a title. He will lose his money also. In English law there is a rule known as the rule of 'market overt.' There are certain things the property in which, even if a person without title sells it in what is called 'market overt,' will pass. But even that rule is not in force in India. Then there are certain things the title to which passes by delivery, such as negotiable instruments and currency notes. That is perhaps the only exception by virture of which property in goods passes by a sale effected by a person other than the owner. So, after all, if we do not have this rule of reputed ownership it is not much of an injustice. It cannot be said that any rule of equity or fairness is contravened. It is a rule that has been introduced into countries where there is a great deal of trade going on. It is intended for the protection of parties who enter into money-lending transactions without knowing that the goods on the security of which money is lent belong to persons other than those with whom they are dealing. It is not quite accurate to say, as my friend Mr. S. Narayana Rao said, that if we omitted the rule of reputed ownership, we can still fall back upon the rule of Estoppel. For that rule requires a declaration, act or omission on the part of the person who is to be estopped. It applies only where a person has done something to deceive another, has made him believe in a certain state of things and that other has consequently changed his position for the worse. But the rule of reputed ownership is a far wider rule and does not require, for its operation, the condition that a third party should be actually prejudiced solely by the act or omission of the real owner. Of course there is a rule of equity also in this rule of reputed ownership; otherwise it would not have been thought of. That is, when a person is engaged in trade, the persons who deal with him have not got either the time or the means to enter into an enquiry as to whether he has got property in all the things he is dealing with or not. They give him credit on what appears on the surface to be the state of his trade and the state of his credit. In that case one of two parties must suffer. It is better the person who gives him credit suffers. Supposing a person has transferred bank shares to the value of

Rs. 20,000 to another, a stranger would have no means of knowing whether the shares stand on his own behalf or on behalf of a different person. The outsiders have no means of knowing it. They give him credit taking all the facts that appear to affect the credit of the man in the market into consideration. Then the question is, when he becomes an insolvent, who is to suffer—either he or the person who has given him credit? On the whole, it is considered that it is much fairer to make the true owner who deliberately chose to trust the insolvent with his goods suffer rather than the person who gave him credit on the faith of what the insolvent had been dealing with as his own property. That is the principle on which this rule of reputed ownership is founded. Now the question before us is whether it is necessary that such a rule, which is to a very great extent a technical rule of a highly developed system of commercial law, is to be applied to the State. It was thought by the Select Committee that for this purpose this State may fairly be regarded as analogous to one of those tracts to which the Government of India considered that certain sections of the Bill should not apply. There is not a single centre of great trade activity, except perhaps the City of Bangalore. On that ground I think it would be quite enough for us to be satisfied with the law of Estoppel as contained in the Evidenc Act, and we may dispense with the provision which I think, is quite unnecessary and may possibly do some injury in the circumstances in which we are placed. I would therefore vote against the amendment being carried.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—I think I must thank the mover of the Bill for the valuable exposition he has given us of the principle of Estoppel and of the doctrine of reputed ownership and the guiding policy which led the Government to enact this provision and the principles on which we are justified in enacting that. As between the equities subsisting between the creditors and the true owner, the equity of the latter is to prevail. I only put it to the Council to consider whether in such a case the creditors should have the protection of the law or the true owner who was careless and allowed the property to be dealt with by the insolvent debtor. Is it desirable that the legislature should leave the interests of creditors to be neglected or is it desirable to throw the burden of protecting his own interests on the true owner? That is one important point for us to consider. The defence for removing this section is based upon two or three inconsistent pleas. One is that the Court itself can take notice of it without such a provision. If it can, it is no reason why that provision should not be incorporated. The section is divisible into two portions. One is a question of fact. It is, whether the ture owner allowed others to believe that the the involvent was owner. Then the question of law would come in as to whether, taking it for granted that he allowed others so to believe, his act was such as to justify a Court of insolvency in ordering his property to be included in the insolvent's assets. It is very much better that there should be a positive provision. I put it to the Council to say whether, after all, it is such a difficult provision to administer; and even if it is difficult, whether it is not better that it should be retained and whether the true owner would not be able to protect his interests.

DEWAN.—Can you give us examples of reputed ownership as opposed to real ownership?

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.—Sir,—Suppose a man has got a machine and leaves it with a carpenter or a manufacturer and allows him to work with it in his manufactory and turn out materials, and leaves it for years in his possession That would be a case of reputed ownership.

MR. NANJUNDAYYA also pointed out instances of ownership from Smith's 'Merchantile Law.'

The motion for the retention of clause 16 (3) was put to the vote and lost (4 voting for and 5 against).

The original motion was then put the vote and carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA moved that the word and figure "July 1911" be substituted for the word and figure "January 19 " in clause (1) (3) of the Mysore Insolvency Bill. Mr. C. Srinivasiengar seconded the motion which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA then moved that the Mysore Insolvency Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. Mr. C. SRINIVASIENGAR seconded the motion, which was carried.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Courts of Small Causes in Mysore.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA.—Sir,—When introducing the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Courts of Small Causes in Mysore, I stated that the Bill was framed on the basis of the British Indian Act, by adopting the provisions of that Act making only such necessary changes as were necessary to suit the local requirements. But on going to the Select Committee it was considered that it would be better to recast the Bill altogether. The original Bill made Courts of Small Causes Courts sui generis. The members of the Select Committee considered this to be quite unnecessary. A Small Cause Court is as much a Civil Court as the Court of a District Judge, the Court of a Subordinate Judge or the Court of a Munsiff. The Select Committee could not see any reason why it should be excepted from the operation of the Civil Courts Regulation. They were unanimously of opinion that instead of repeating the provisions that are already contained in the Civil Courts Regulation, the Courts of Small Causes might also be brought under the Civil Courts as defined in the Civil Courts Regulation. The adoption of this course has necessitated a few verbal changes in that Regulation, but it has also enabled us to do away with a number of sections in the Bill, such as those relating to the appointment of ministerial officers, use of a seal, etc., all of which are provided for in the Civil Courts Regulation. Another provision on which the Select Committee bestowed their careful consideration is the schedule to the Bill which enumerates the suits cognisable by a Court of Small Causes. The Committee were of opinion that a positive enumeration of such suits is, on the whole, a far better mode of fixing the jurisdiction of Small Cause Courts than the negative method employed in the British Indian Act. The Committee have therefore recommended the retention of the schedule with only a few verbal changes. The Council is aware that the Bill contains a few novel provisions, namely, those contained in Clauses 14 A and 14 B. The former relates to non-suiting and enables the Court to non-suit the plaintiff in cases where the Judge is of opinion that he has not proved his case. In such a case he may bring another suit on the same cause of action, subject, however, to the law of limitation. The difference between this provision and the provision regarding withdrawal of suits contained in the Civil Procedure Code is that, under the new clause, a Court can take action suo motu whereas, under the Civil Procedure Code, action can be taken only on the application of the plaintiff.

Clause 14 B refers to trial of suits by composite Courts; namely, with the aid of another Civil Judge or Magistrate and two jurors to be selected in accordance with rules to be framed in this behalf by the Chief Court. The Select Committee were of opinion that this provision is calculated to ensure greater finality to judgments of Small Cause Courts and also to inspire greater confidence in the minds of the public in their decisions. They have, however, recommended a few changes. Under the clause as it originally stood only suits exceeding Rs. 100 in value could be tried by a composite Court. As the limit of Small Cause jurisdiction nowhere exceeds Rs. 100 except in the City of Bangalore, the clause would have been of no practical use outside Bangalore; and they have therefore recommended that the limit be lowered from Rs. 100 to Rs. 50. Another change recommended by the Committee is that the rules framed in the Chief Court under this section should receive the sanction of Government before they can acquire the force of law. And, finally, as a measure of precaution, the Select Committee have recommended that the provisions of this clause should force only in such Courts and from such dates as the Government may notify in the official Gazette.

Having next dealt with certain other minor changes effected by the Select Committee, MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA moved that the rules of business be suspended so as to permit of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Courts of Small Causes in Mysore being taken into consideration and adopted by the Council.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR seconded and the motion was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA'S next motion that the Report of the Select Committee on the above Bill be considered and adopted by the Council having been seconded, and carried by the Council, he moved that the word and figure "July 1911" be inserted after the words "the first day of" and in place of the figure "190 ..." in clause 1 (3) and the words "Schedule I" be substituted for "the Schedule" in clause 4 of the Bill as amended by the Select Committee.

MR. A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR seconded the motion, which was carried.

MR. H. V. NANJUNDAYYA'S next motion that the following sub-clause (b) be added to Clause 2, viz.—

"The enactment referred to in Schedule II is amended to the extent specified therein," and the present sub-clause (b) be changed into sub-clause (c) having been seconded by MR. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR and carried by the Council, he moved that the above Bill as amended be taken up and passed at a subsequent meeting of the Council. MR. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR seconded the motion, which was put to the Council and carried.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

It has come to the knowledge of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja that an organised system of recruitment of coolies in Mysore for labour in foreign countries is prevailing in some parts of the State, and they have reason to believe that several persons, including young and in experienced persons, are being induced to emigrate by the recruiters under various pretences and false representations as regards the condition of life, labour and wages in such foreign places. The Government consider that these facts should be generally known throughout the State, and the public are hereby warned of the risks they run in acting on the inducements offered by the recruiters in question, without making careful inquiries for themselves.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, R. I.

WHEREAS we are happily at Peace with all Sovereigns, Powers and States:

And whereas a State of War unhappily exists between His Majesty The King of Italy, and His Imperial Majesty The Sultan of Turkey, and between their respective Subjects, and others inhabiting within their Countries, Territories or Dominions:

And whereas We are on terms of Friendship and amicable intercourse with each of these Powers, and with their several subjects, and others inhabiting within their Countries, Territories, or Dominions:

And whereas great Numbers of Our Loyal Subjects reside and carry on Commerce, and possess Property and Establishments, and enjoy various Rights and Privileges, within the Dominions of each of the aforesaid Powers, protected by the Faith of Treaties between Us and each of the aforesaid Powers:

And whereas We, being desirous of preserving to Our Subjects the Blessings of Peace, which they now happily enjoy, are firmly purposed and determined to maintain a strict and impartial Neutrality in the said State of War unhappily existing between the aforesaid Powers:

We, therefore, have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation:

And We do hereby strictly charge and command all Our loving Subjects to govern themselves accordingly, and to observe a strict neutrality in and during the aforesaid War, and to abstain from violating or contravening either the Laws and Statutes of the Realm in this behalf, or the Law of Nations in relation thereto, as they will answer to the contrary at their peril:

And whereas in and by a certain Statute made and passed in a Session of Parliament holden in the 33rd and 34th year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to Regulate the conduct of Her Majesty's Subjects during the existence of Hostilities between Foreign States with which Her Majesty is at Peace," it is, among other things, declared and enacted as follows:—
